Governor Neff of Texas declined to call state troops to guard M. K. and T. property and Secretary Weeks said that federal troops would be furnished if the governor stands pat.

Chairman Hooper of the railroad labor board continues his peace overtures with railway executives apparently with little success while the northwestern carriers were still negotiating with local strike committees for a settlement.

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, July 14—Fresh outbreaks, notably in Texas, Oklahoma, and Missouri President Harding's determined steps to keep the mails moving, and informal negotiations for a settlement of the shopmen's strike on 17 roads in the northwest were among other important development of the last twenty four hours

GRABLE UNDER PRESSURE.

Pressure by many of his general chairmen on E F. Grable, president of United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employes and railway shop laborers, pushed the common labor problem to the front again.

Mr Grable arrived in Chicago while threats to disregard his refusal to join the walkout came from within his organization

LACK AUTHORITY

The general chairmen, he asserted, has no authority to call a strike, for which the rank and file had voted, and he indicated an intention to remain firm on his refusal to sanction a strike

Mr. Grable admitted that he was with difficulty holding his men in line Many maintenance employes who reluctantly remained at work when the shopmen walked out their jobs on July 1, have since joined the strike

ONLY HOPEFUL NOTE

The new crisis caused by threats from maintenance men arrived as peace moves to end the shopmen's strike had apparently slowed up materially, except for conferences at St. Paul, which lent the only hopeful air to the situation.

The St Paul conferences between P A Henning, chairman of the Federated Shop Crafts of the Northwestern district and Rail officials brought no definite results both sides admitted that negotiations had advanced to a stage that gave promise of a settlement of the strike on the 17 roads of the northwestern group

NOT GENERAL PEACE

Mr. Henning went so far as to assert that he did believe it possible to settle the strike on an national basis within 48 hours Before entering the St. Paul negotiations Mr. Henning conferred with Mr Jewell, who had asserted that it was upon a national basis only, and through direct negotiations with the roads that the shopmen's strike would be ended

Chairman Hooper of the labor board who announced formulation of new plans for ending the strike, was closely watched for his next move for peace

Charges Fraud and Graft in Chemical Controversy

Senator Says Conspiracy and Falsehood Has Part in Attack On Foundation in Alien Enemy Property Fight.

Washington, July 14.—Charges of a somewhat sensational character against the Chemical foundation, Inc, the E. I. Dupont De Nemours and company, and the Textile Alliance were made today in the senate by Senator Moses, Republican of New Hampshire, in the course of a prepared address in opposition to the dye embargo provisions of the administration tariff bill.

Senator Moses said the organizations were three of the factors "in the gigantic fraud," he was opposing, and added

"These three are significantly interlocked in their related personnel and in their activities; and it is they whose subsidiaries, officers, stockholders, lobbyists, paid propagandists, and faked and kept organizations have been the most aggressive, avacarious, and insolent of all the profiteering crew who pertinaciously push this legislation."

"GARVIN GUILTY"

Senator Moses declared that whatever the outcome of the government proceedings against the chemical foundation, he always would believe it was conceived in conspiracy and fostered by falsehood. He charged that the conspiracy was formed by Francis P Garvin, its president, "his associates in the offices of Alien property custodian and certain of the dye manufacturers of the country"

MOVE AUTHORIZED.

Calling attention that the foundation was organized in the winter of 1919, Senator Moses said that on February 26 of that year, acting Secretary Polk signed an executive order which had been carefully prepared for his signature, "by the foundation, authorizing licensing of seized enemy patents and trademarks by the organization." In this connection he presented a memorandum of a conversation which he said he had had with unnamed federal official setting forth that Mr. Polk, who was acting in the absence in Europe of Secretary Lansing and President Wilson, had acknowledged that he had signed the order on representations that the action to be taken was with the full approval of the federal trade commission which was licensing the patents under authority of trading with the enemy act.

"PERSONAL GAIN" CHARGE

A week after the order was signed, Senator Moses continued, Mr Garvin became alien property custodian and "as such on April 10 sold to himself for $250,000 property whose earning capacity thus far disclosed indicates it to have been worth many millions"

The Smith-Spring-Holmes Orchestral Quintet furnished the first part, which consisted of music and readings. Their music was of a very high class and the numbers given by the young lady reader of the company were especially enjoyed.

The speaker of the evening was Stricklan W. Gillilan, who kept the big audience continuously in a good humor to the extent that laughter was nearly continuous and at times was an uproar. He did not talk about anything in particular but a great many things in general and his dry humor was at all times apparent

Rev Mr. Liston the platform superintendent, left here Thursday morning for some point in Missouri, where he will be on duty, and the tent was taken down and prepared for shipment during the day Thursday.

How to Banish Piles

Thousands Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered This Common Sense Remedy

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID.

The Doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting for years he discovered the exact cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Doctor Cures Dishwashing Blues

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"I received your letter, madam," said the doctor, "and I wish to know if your daughter's appetite is poor."

"Dear Doctor," began a letter Dr. Snuffles found in his mail box one morning. "When you are out making your calls will you please stop in to see Molly, my daughter?

"She gets the worst indigestion after meals.

"Just when it's time to wash the dishes she begins to suffer most. Her head aches and she has to go and lie down. About the time I finish the dishes she gets better again and she's all right until after the next meal.

"Your worriedly,
"MRS. MARK MUSKRAT."

"H'm!" said Dr. Snuffles to Nancy and Dick, the Twins, who were busy helping that kind gentleman, "would you like to go with me today, kiddies?"

"Oh, yes, indeed!" declared Nancy.

Pretty soon they came to Mrs. Muskrat's house by Ripple Creek. The Muskrats lived next door to Marty Mink and across from Phil Frog.

Mrs Muskrat hurried downstairs

"I received your letter, madam," said the doctor, "and I wish to know if your daughter's appetite is poor."

"Goodness, no!" said Mrs. Muskrat. "She nearly eats me out of house and home. But never seems to agree with her."

"Well," said the doctor, "she has a strange disease called the dishwashing blues. Don't give her any food whatever until all the other dishes are washed. Let her wash them first. See if it doesn't work."

The next morning the doctor received another letter in his mail. It said:

Dear Doctor: Molly is cured.
"MRS. MUSKRAT."

Dr. Snuffles smiled.

Why Dogs Lick A Man's Hand

BY. PROF. M. J. ELROD,
Chair of Biology, University of Montana.

When Mr. Garner spent so many months living in his iron cage in the jungles of Africa, studying apes, monkeys and gorillas, he discovered among other things that if a monkey licked the body of another monkey or of man, or put out its tongue to do so, it was a signal of surrender, to give up, as it were.

A traveler in South American woods along the Amazon shot a monkey. The poor little beast was badly wounded, but not dead, when approached. In its last agony it acted as do similar animals in far distant Africa, it licked the hand of the man who did the mortal injury. The look and the act gave the traveler a feeling of sorrow and regret for his deed. Many similar instances are on record.

With other animals the act of licking indicates something akin to what in words would be "I am your friend." I give up. So when a dog licks the hand of his master, or attempts to lick his master's face, it is but his canine expression of fidelity, affection and devotion.

The act doubtless harks back through the ages to the time when the dog-wolf made the choice between man or other dog-wolves, and selected man as his companion. Out of the dim past there remains with the dog this instinct, which is so often not understood, and which represents that which is best and noblest in dog nature.

BEAUTY THAT POWDER AND ROUGE CANNOT GIVE

The most lasting beauty, the real, genuine beauty that is "more than skin deep," does not come from the use of cosmetics. It cannot exist in persons who suffer continually from nervousness, frequent headaches, but you invariably find it in people who enjoy perfect health and splendid vitality. To acquire this enviable physical condition, there is nothing better than Korbeline—the new scientifically compounded tonic which is a skilled combination of the choicest roots and herbs selected for their great medicinal value. This agreeable tonic gives immediate relief from constipation, indigestion, loss of appetite, frequent headaches, nervousness, insomnia and other chronic disorders, and in a short time that tired, rundown feeling will give way to a splendid, healthful energy and vigor. MAKE FIRST PAYMENT ON SECTION 12 WORK

Check For Culverts Turned Over to Contractor.

The first payment for construction work on Section 12, route 10, east of Decatur, was made Thursday when Chairman O. M Scott of the county board received a check in payment for the culverts and turned it over to R. G Flaugher, the contractor It is stated that the culverts have been completed and a considerable amount of the grading has been done. The concrete work will start in a short time.

DODGING NECESSARY.

The East William street road is still open for travel but it is rather hazardous and rough travel One can get to the road running north into Sangamon by dodging one or two of the new culverts and to the Oakley road by going around still more culverts. Further than that passage is not assured.

Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood, then, that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice: even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moment's call be the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the littlest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

Guaranteed to End Falling Hair and Baldness

Science discovers baldness due to Simple Infection (Sebum). Now quickly overcomes it. Hair actually grown on 91 heads in 100!

Written Guarantee to Grow Hair!

This is a direct offer to grow hair on your head. An offer backed by written guarantee, signed by your own druggist. If we fail, you pay nothing.

Science has recently made amazing discoveries. It has learned that hair roots seldom die. They can be revived. We have proved this by growing new hair on 91 heads in 100.

Highest authorities approve this new way. Great dermatologists now employ it.

Baldness is not a disease. It is merely a symptom of infection—of an infected scalp oil called Sebum.

Infected Sebum

Sebum is an oil. It forms at the follicles of the hair. Its purpose is to supply the hair with oil. But it often becomes infected. It cakes on the scalp; clogs the follicles and plugs them. Germs by the millions then start to feed upon the hair. Semi-baldness comes first; then comes total baldness.

Remove that infection and your hair will grow. We back this statement with a money-back guarantee. Hence it is fully for any man or woman with falling hair not to make the test.

We Remove It

Our treatment is based on new principles. It penetrates to the follicles of the hair. It kills infection—removes the infectious Sebum. Falling hair stops in three weeks. It revives the dormant hair roots, makes new hair grow. Remember, it is guaranteed

No red tape. The guarantee is positive. You are the judge. Your own druggist signs it. Go today, ask him for Van Ess Scalp Massage. The guarantee will accompany it. If the treatment fails— your money back.

Pay Nothing

Unless we grow hair. The Van Ess treatment is absolutely guaranteed. You are the sole judge. The warrant is signed by your own druggist. You assume no risk making this test.

SMALL CAPE COATS CAPTURE BRITISH

New Summer Garment Is Captivating.

London, July 14.—For use over summer dresses there are delightful little cape coats. These are circular capes in back, but cross over and are fastened by a belt in front. They have no sleeves. Another type of summer coat is loose and straight, both back and front. It has wide, full sleeves, and comes usually in velvet, light weight duvetyn and silk. Almond green is a favorite color for such a coat, although gray is also popular.

Charming Gowns.

Paris, July 14.—A charming gown for the afternoon combines several different colors, one on top of the other. It is really made up of two or three gowns. Each frock is of very sheer crepe de chine, made as a slip-on. First, let us say, a peach tinted frock is donned. Over this is slipped a frock of sand color. Over this is worn a frock of cocoa bean. The effect, especially if the two other frocks are slashed up the side, is very lovely.

Summer Furs.

Paris, July 14.—At last some women have rebelled against summer furs. A clever modiste has therefore thought up a substitute It is lace. Not wide lace, but the very narrow kind, fine and soft and closely gathered Mounted upon a rolled collar, the thickly packed lace is a pretty substitute for fur, without the furry warmth so uncomfortable on a hot day. The lace is dyed every conceivable color to match the costume.

Brilliant Pajamas.

New York, July 14.—A set of pajamas seen in a Fifth avenue shop are of brightest orange which does not seem particularly reposeful They were trimmed, moreover, with a narrow edging of black. This may sound like a hallowe'en costume, but those who know are firm in the opinion that pajamas of hues as brilliant as those will be the vogue this autumn. Another set in the same shop were of Belgian blue with tiny edgings of scarlet.

GIRLS! LEMONS

BLEACH SKIN WHITE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

DECATUR TOURISTS MEET IN PARIS

The Dean Wald party, which is touring Europe this summer, met Mrs. T. T. Robert and Mrs. Harriet Amsden, and also Miss Bonnie Blackburn of James Millikin university, in Paris, according to a letter received from Miss Margaret W. Winslow, who is with the party.

The party arrived in Paris, Friday evening June 30, after leaving Cherbourg in the afternoon. The trip was one of the most delightful which has been taken up to this time, the scenery being beautiful.

When they first arrived in France it was somewhat difficult to make themselves understood, but it was not long until gestures and a few words were known, so they were able to give directions that could be understood The first afternoon in Paris they went to Versailles. The palace is very lovely with its old pictures and antique furniture.

Miss Winslow writes: "Paris is full of the glories of Napoleon and Louis XIV, and many others, but it seems everywhere one of those two has a picture or a statue telling of his accomplishments." The party when through Soissons, Rheims and Chatean Thierry and many other cities Some reparation work is being done but many towns and parts of towns are still just piles of stone. Many of the fields are still strung with wire as in war days, and are full of shell holes, making a terrible sight. They have seen and have waved to a great number of foreign children, and even though they waved, there was a noticeable absence of smiles and laughter.

The Wald party was at the Grand Hotel in Montreux, Suisse, when the letter was written.

At Warrensburg Service.

The Gospel team from the Young Men's class of the First Presbyterian church, taught by Al P. Overman, will have charge of the church services at the Methodist church in Warrensburg Sunday morning, in the absence of the pastor, who is on his vacation. LOCAL RADIO NOTES

The concert, which was sent out from the Kansas City Star Thursday evening, was heard by many of the local stations. It was one of the best programs of the year. Dewey L. Otta heard the concert and when the Magnevox was put on the music could be heard for a block. The concert was also heard at the home of Dr. Claude Postlewait, 328 West King street. Everyone who received the concert seems to have enjoyed it.

The new Armstrong regenerative set built by Dewey L. Otta has been completed and is adaptable to receive any wave length in use. While listening Thursday afternoon for the high powered stations the government station at Stavengar, Norway, was heard very plainly. On such high wave lengths the static does not bother receiving in the least.

—:—

The small outfit which was built for the Review, from the "How and Why of Radio Broadcasting" charts, is in perfect operation and will again be on exhibition in the Review Radio Room Friday evening between 7:30 and 9:00.

—:—

Many of the Decatur amateurs are busy experimenting with the new Armstrong set. It is said that using the new circuit stations in the Orient can be heard very clearly and very loud.

Here is What You'll Wear in Fall

Even so early as this there are "advance fall styles"—imported models judged by designers to show what is newest and will be popular this fall.

They are usually shown in lighter materials for late summer wear and in heavier materials for autumn.

The two models illustrated are of this type—adaptable to either light or heavy weight materials.

They have low waist lines, longer skirts with uneven hems and noticeably elaborate sleeves.

Only one shows the round neck which is reported to be sharing its vogue with square and "V"-shaped lines.

RIDGLEY CREDITORS FILE MANY CLAIMS

Total Aggregates More Than $110,000.

Chicago, July 14—Creditors whose claims totaled more than $110,000 appeared Thursday at the hearings in probate court in connection with the estate of Mrs. Orah Belle Ridgley, of Assumption, Ill., who died recently at Hot Springs, Ark.

Judge Horner issued a citation for the appearance of James A. Steele said to have moved to Pennsylvania, to appear before him next Saturday Steele was said to have sent word to the court that he had a missing will of the dead woman and the judge declared that if he did not make good the statement he would compel him to answer to contempt charges.

ACTION IN FLORIDA.

The court was informed that C A. Rise, who sold Mrs. Ridgley 300 acres of land in Florida, which is part of her $30,000 estate, had applied for letters of administration in Florida which was Mrs Ridgley's legal residence at the time of her death. This action would take the matter out of the hands of the probate court unless it is shown that Mrs. Ridgley had real estate in Cook county, at the time of her death.

TEXAS GIRL PREPARES 1000 FOR WORK AS MINISTERS

"The little minister maker" is the title Texas people use to describe Hope Finbrock Morris.

Because under her tutelege 1000 Texans are being prepared for the ministry and for missionary work and thousands more, scattered throughout the world, already have been prepared.

She is more technically known as the recruiting superintendent of the Texas Christian End avor Association.

Recently she ushered one of her students into another field—the field of matrimony.

Until a fortnight ago she was Hope Finbrock. Then she married Fred Morris, a medical student at Galveston. When he is graduated they will go to South America as missionaries

CAR DASHES UP ON SIDEWALK

Forced to Turn to Avoid Smash-up—Little Damage Done.

A car bearing an Illinois license No. 519863, with a driver whose name was not learned, caused a little excitement Friday morning when it plunged part way up on to the west sidewalk in the 200 block on North Water street. No one was hurt and the only damage to the car was a bent bumper and a front wheel that was out of line.

The machine was coming south on North Water street and was passing another automobile when a car darted out from the east on North Park street, forcing the driver of the damaged car to turn into the sidewalk, to avoid a smashup. Onlookers said that the Park street car driver was to blame.

WOULD GET RID OF 5,000 POOR

Bucharest, Rumania.—Rumania has been given some first hand information as to the immigration laws of the United States.

A high government official called recently on a member of the American legation here and said:

"We have 5,000 poor Jews out at Kishineff and other nearby points, all refugee from Russia. We have decided to send them to the United States. How shall we go about it to get rid of them as quickly as possible?"

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greasless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

SCARAMOUCHE

© by Rafael Sabatini

In the background on a settee at the salon's far end, sat Aline staring in bewilderment and some fear at a face, which, if unrecognizable through the mask of blood and dust that smeared it, was yet familiar And then the man spoke, and instantly she knew the voice for that of the Marquis de La Tour d'Azyr.

"In danger?" Almost he seemed silently to laugh at the unnecessary question "If I were to show myself openly in the streets just now, I might with luck contrive to live for five minutes!"

He peeled off the shaggy great-coat, and casting it from him stepped forth in the black satin that had been the general livery of the hundred knights who had rallied in the Tuileries that morning to the defense of thei rking.

His coat was rent across the back, his neckcloth and the ruffles at his wrists were torn and bloodstained, with his smeared face and disordered headdress he was terrible to behold.

"My dear Therese, unless you carry charitableness to the length of giving me to drink, you will see me perish of thirst under your eyes before ever the canaille has a chance to finish me"

She started. "I should have thought of it!" she cried in self-reproach, and she turned quickly "Aline," she begged, 'tell Jacques to bring . . ."

"Aline!" he echoed, interrupting and swinging round in his turn Then, as Aline rose into view, detaching from her background, and he at last preceived her, he heaved himself abruptly to his weary legs again, and stood there stiffly, bowing to her across the space of gleaming floor. "Mademoiselle, I had not suspected your presence," he said, and he seemed extraordinarily ill-at-ease, a man startled, as if caught in an illicit act.

"I perceived it, monsieur," she answered, as she advanced to do madame's commission. She paused before him. "From my heart, monsieur, I grieve that we should meet again in circumstances so very painful"

Not since the day of his duel with Andre-Louis—the day which had seen the death and burial of his last hope of winning her—had they stood face to face

"But sit, monsieur, I beg. You are fatigued"

"You are gracious to observe it With your permission, then." And he resumed his seat. She continued on her way to the door and passed out upon her errand.

M. de La Tour d'Azyr at last pleaded weariness, and withdrew that he might endeavor to take some rest. When he had gone, madame persuaded Aline to go and lie down.

Left alone, madame lay down on a couch in the salon itself, to be ready for any emergency.

The timepiece on the overmantel chimed the hour of ten, and then, startling in the suddenness with which it broke the immediate silence, another sound vibrated through the house, and brought madame to her feet, in a breathless mingling of hope and dread Someone was knocking sharply on the door below. Followed moments of agonized suspense, culminating in the abrupt invasion of the room by the footman Jacques. He looked round, not seeing his mistress at first.

"Madame! Madame!" he panted, out of breath "There is a man below. He is demanding to see you at once."

She was perfectly composed "Conduct him to me, and then beg Mlle. de Kercadiou to join me if she is awake."

The door opened again, and Jacques reappeared; after him, stepping briskly past him, came a slight man in a wide-brimmed hat, adorned by a tricolor cockade. About the waist of an olive-green riding-coat he wore a broad tricolor sash; a sword hung at his side

"Andre-Louis'" she exclaimed.

CHAPTER XII

THAT gift of laughter of his seemed utterly extinguished "Rougane could not return," he informed her shortly. "At M. de Kercadiou's request, I come instead"

"You! You are sent to rescue us!" The note of amazement in her voice was stronger than that of her relief.

"That, and to make your acquaintance, madame."

"To make my acquaintance? But what do you mean, Andre-Louis?"

"This letter from M de Kercadiou will tell you."

Intrigued by his odd words and odder manner, she took the folded sheet. She broke the seal with shaking hands, and with shaking hands approached the written page to the light.

"And, so you know, my child?' Her voice was stifled to a whisper.

"I know, madame my mother."

She took one or two faltering steps toward him, hesitating. Then she opened her arms Sobs sufocated her voice

"Won't you come to me, Andre-Louis?"

A moment yet he stood hesitating, startled by that appeal, angered almost by his heart's response to it, reason and sentiment at grips in his soul. This was not real, his reason expostulated; this poignant emotion that she displayed and that he experienced was fantastic. Yet he went. Her arms enfolded him; her wet cheek was pressed hard against his own; her frame, which the years had not yet succeeded in robbing of its grace, was shaken by the passionate storm within her.

"Oh, Andre-Louis, my child, if you knew how I have hungered to hold you so! If you knew how, in denying myself this, I have atoned and suffered! Kercadiou should not have told you—not even now. It was wrong—most wrong, perhaps, to you. And yet—come what may of this—to be able to hold you so, to be able to acknowledge you, to hear you call me mother—oh! Andre-Louis, I cannot now regret it. I cannot . . . I cannot wish it otherwise."

She sprang away from him with a startled cry. Beyond him in the shadows by the door a pale figure shimmered ghostly.

"You heard, Aline?" madame exclaimed.

"I could not help it, madame"

"Aline!" It was the Countess who spoke. She knew the danger of half-discoveries. "I can trust you, child, I know, and Andre-Louis, I am sure, will offer no objection." She had taken up the letter to show it to Aline. Yet first her eyes questioned him.

"Oh, none, madame," he assured her. "It is entirely a matter for yourself."

Aline looked from one to the other with troubled eyes, hesitating to take the letter that was now proffered. When she had read it through, she very thoughtfully replaced it on the table Then impulsively she ran to madame and put her arms about her.

"Aline!" It was a cry of wonder, almost of joy. "You do not utterly abhor me!"

"My dear" said Aline, and kissed the tear-stained face that seemed to have grown years older in these last few hours

In the background Andre-Louis, steeling himself against emotionalism, spoke with the voice of Scaramouche.

"It would be well, mesdames, to postpone all transports until they can be indulged at greater leisure and in more security. It is growing late. If we are to get out of this shambles we should be wise to take the road without more delay"

It was a tonic as effective as it was necessary It startled them into remembrance of their circumstances, and under the spur of it they went at once to make their preparations.

They left him for perhaps a quarter of an hour, to pace that long room alone, saved only from impatience by the turmoil of his mind. When at length they returned, they were accompanied by a tall man in a full-skirted shaggy greatcoat and a broad hat, the brim of which was turned down all around He remained respectfully by the door in the shadows

Between them the two women had concerted it thus,' or rather the Countess had so concerted it when Aline had warned her that Andre-Louis' bitter hostility toward the Marquis made it unthinkable that he should move a finger consciously to save him.

They had made the mistake of not fully forewarning and persuading M de La Tour d'Azyr.

They had reckoned without the queer sense of honor that moved such men as M. le Marquis, nurtured upon a code of shams.

Andre Louis, turning to scan that muffled figure advanced from the dark depths of the salon. As the light beat on his white, lean face the pseudo-footman, started The next moment he too stepped forward into the light, and swept his broad-brimmed hat from his brow. As he did so Andre-Louis observed that his hand was fine and white and that a jewel flashed from one of the fingers Then he caught his breath, and stiffened in every line as he recognized the face revealed to him.

"Monsieur," that stern, proud man was saying, "I cannot take advantage of your ignorance. If these ladies can persuade you to save me, at least it is due to you that you shall know whom you are saving."

Door Bell on Crystal Set Helps Learn Radio Code

BY PAUL F. GODLEY

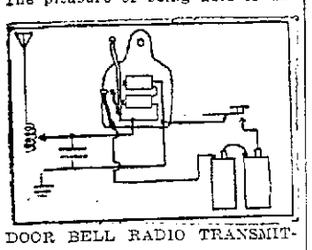
American's Foremost Radio Authority.

An ordinary door buzzer, or a door bell with the gong removed, may be connected with an antenna to act as telegraph transmitter.

Hooked up to a crystal receiver such a transmitter has been known to operate satisfactorily over distances of three or four miles. The range covered will depend upon the power of the battery used.

An increasing number of persons who have become interested in listening to radio broadcasting are picking up the code. It adds fascination to reception. It lets the amateur listen in on the inside of radio.

The pleasure of being able to understand the thousands of telegraphic messages that are flashed from continent to continent, from ship to ship, more than compensates one for the trouble and time expended in picking up the code. The average time required for mastering the code ranges between three and five months.



DOOR BELL RADIO TRANSMITTER.

But, within a very short time, the beginner can reach the stage where he can pick up calls of stations which are usually repeated several times.

Having memorized the alphabet, speed in reception can be developed by a little practice on the door-buzzer transmitter.

BOOST SALE OF BIBLE BY RADIO

Radio has been called upon to boom the sale of the world's best seller—the Bible.

A. Wesley Mell, secretary of the Pacific Agency of the American Bible Society, tried this novel method and succeeded.

From his headquarters at San Francisco, Mell sent broadcast a sales lecture. Touring the streets of the city was an automobile equipped with radio antenna and receiving set and loaded with Bibles.

At corners, the car would stop, then the radio loud speaker would begin to "talk." The novel stunt drew the crowd and the attendants with the radio auto went about selling the books.

With his Bible sales talks, Mell gave readings also.

BANK WINDING—A method of winding an inductance coil in layers or for the reception of long wave lengths. This eliminates the necessity of adding separate coils to the primary inductance, which take up more space than can be afforded.

MINING INCREASES IN BELGIAN CONGO

Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, Gold and diamond mining has greatly increased in the Belgian Congo since the Armistice, and in May 1922 it reached the highest point ever known in the history of the colony. The Steamer Anversville left for Antwerp recently carrying 1,100 pounds of gold bullion and several million francs worth of diamonds.

Cotton growing for the current year has been so successful that two new mechanical shelling shops have been installed. The necessary machinery was brought in Worcester, Mass.

GERMANS GO INTO SOUTHERN RUSSIA

Warsaw—Thousands of German ex-service men are founding colonies in South Russia, according to reports published here from Odessa. In the neighborhood of the latter city large tracts of "nationalized" land have already been taken up by these colonists at the invitation of the Bolshevik government. Within the next two years the Soviets plan to establish 100,000 of these German colonists in South Russia.

Holzhauser Stops Eva Club With 3 to 0 Win

Nee Batters Helpless Before Commie Star—Hits by Philpott and Lamb Do It.

BY HOWARD V. MILLARD.

Dan O'Leary called in Adolph Holzhauser out of turn Thursday to stop those rampant Evas and that the Commie hurler did it in great style is putting it mildly

The big boy toyed with the Evas best hitters and there was never a time in the entire nine frames that he wasn't in control of the situation In but two innings did the Evansville club look like it might put over a counter but on each occasion Holzhauser tightened up and set the anxious batter down via the strike-out route.

TURNS THEM BACK.

Johnny Nee opened the fourth with a single and Ganzel walked. Collins, who has been hitting at a fine clip for the Evas came up ready to put over the necessary punch but he was put down on strikes. Dick Reichle also received the same dose and Doane skied out to Philpott.

Again in the fifth the visitors threatened after two were down Kimpling got a double to left and Grant walked. Johnny Nee was up in the clinch but he was also forced to breeze the air with waiting runners on the paths In the sixth the Commie star retired the side on strikes, getting Ganzel, Collins and Doane.

ERRORS PAVED WAY.

The Commies gained two unearned runs in the second when with two down Dick Reichle booted Sorrells tap. Bill Philpott doubled to left scoring Sorrells and then Dave Lamb sent a single to center that registered Philpott.

Pete Brausen caught the Eva outfield drawn in for him in the sixth and he poked a triple over Collins' head Jess Runser sent out a long fly to Doane and Brauser counted the final run of the game.

BEAUTIFUL THROW.

During the same inning three other hits were produced but two Commies were pegged out at the plate by Collins and Ganzel. The first named athlete pulled a truly wonderful peg from deep left to nail Cole on Strain's single while Ganzel got Strain on Bourg's single only through the fact Umpire Lewis missed a clean play Patterson received the ball on the right of the plate and reached over to tag Strain with his feet across the plate The Commies objected strenuously but of course it was of no avail

FINAL GAME FRIDAY.

Pete Brausen was also caught at the counting station in the third frame when on a hit and run play he attempted to score as Nee threw out Cole at first but Reichle got the ball to Patterson in time to nab the Commie third sacker

The Evas died hard for after taking the first two games they were anxious to put a win over on Holzhauser. It was the first time many of the visitors had faced him and they were batting for every out.

The same two clubs play the final game Thursday, the Evas then going to Terre Haute for a four game series and the Commies to Danville for a like number.

ADOLPH HOLZHAUSER.

The Commies may not win the Three Eye League pennant this season, but they are going to have the league's leading hurler when the old record book is compiled on the season's play

Adolph Holzhauser, the big twirler secured by Dan O'Leary from the Kansas City Blues, is the best pitcher in the entire league. It is not only the verdict of fans, but ball players on opposing clubs and umpires as well

One arbiter, who has been in the harness 20 years, says that Holzhauser has shown him the best curve ball he has seen in all his experience The Missouri boy won his fifteenth game of the season Thursday and there isn't much doubt but that he will be in faster company next year.

Adolph is not only popular with the fans, but his mates as well. He loves to work and is made of the kind of timber that should put him in the big show

BAIT For BUGS

By H. V. MILLARD

"Oyster Bill" Conradt doesn't have much chance to break into print during the baseball season but he came to bat with a good one Thursday evening. Bill had the old diary out for 1902 and it showed that July 13 came on a Sunday and that the Commies beat Evansville 5 to 2. He saw the game and McGill and Krebs formed the Decatur battery.

After watching Johnny Nee's outfielders pag the ball in this series will say that he has the best throwing outfield in the circuit. There may be clubs that have one man who will show up but none of them have three as good as the Evas gardeners.

Collins was in deep left when he cut loose the apple to retire Cole in the sixth. The left fielder is a former hurler according to the dope. He had a bad day facing Holzhauser fanning the air three times.

Maybe the Eva outfielders will quit coming in for Brausen. He got a double over Ganzel's head and a triple over Collins because they were out of position

If there was ever a play that the Press Coop could have called it was on Strain in the sixth. Patterson didn't even come close to having the Commie gardener. In fact he had just started to turn after receiving the ball when Odie slid across the plate.

However we will never complain on Christian and Lewis. They are out there calling them as they see them and 95 per cent of the time they are right. You never see them trying to even up for an apparent error of judgement. As long as baseball is played there will be umpires and as long as there are umpires they will miss plays as well as balls and strikes.

In the Cub-Giant's game Thursday umpire Klemm lost track of the strikes on Cunningham and he was given his fourth one with runners on third and second What a riot there would have been if Cunningham had singled on the extra strike instead of flying out. They all make them boys.

Pete Brausen was all decked up Thursday evening in one of those St. Nick shaves etc. owing to his three base drive in the sixth. Gee wish we were a ball player.

Speaking of the St. Nick we haven't been able to see General Pershing Laux since he returned from across the pond. Captain Moffett and the General were real good friends before he high toned us with that foreign stuff.

"Look at his Arm" That was O'Leary's comment when Grant was trying to convince umpire Lewis that Holzhauser was doctoring a baseball. Guess Grant figured he was fooling some one.

The Decatur skipper also pulled a good one when Kimpling came up to bat with a flat bat. "Get a broom" was his advice to the Eva hurler after Lewis had thrown the bat out of the contest

Well did those Vets play baseball Thursday. They will make the going pretty tough for the Commies in the next three days if they keep up that kind of baseball.

Thursday the game started off like another batch of double plays were going to be staged Three in the first two and a half innings was a fine start.

Dick Reichle was given a nice base hit by Holzhauser when he floated up a slow one for the Eva first sacker He cracked the ball to left for a clean blow. His other wallop was one that Holzhauser partially knocked down in the second.

For some reason or other Collins was strolling around on the cinder road when Lamb connected with one of Kimpling's offerings in the fifth.

The July issue of the Rotarian has a picture of Johnny Nee, J. G Greer president of the Evansville Rotary Club and Fred Cissna a youngster. The Rotary club in the Indiana town gave hosts to 1,000 boys at a recent baseball game. You have to hand it to the Rotarians, they are always doing something worth while.

Earl Sykes is going to make a grand bid for the Three Eye flag the last half of the season with his Bloomers. Pat Hardgrove fills a weak spot at third while there latest move is to secure Morrissette for the hurling department. Now we know Boss Earl will have plenty of trouble

RACING NOTES.

The meeting at Reno, Nev., is scheduled to end Saturday but may be extended for a few days. It has been far more successful than its promoters anticipated in attendance and the class of the horses contending.

Firebrand ran another of his bad races Thursday in the Frontier Handicap, the feature race at Windsor, finishing unplaced and adding additional evidence that he is a rank in-and-outer. Commander Ross' good handicap horse, Boniface, won, with Registrar second and Planet third.

The good filly Diadema, owned by Commander Ross, ran second yesterday at Windsor to Royal Visitor and thus lowered slightly a wonderful percentage. In eleven races Diadema has been seven times first and four times second. Second is the worst she has done, and up to yesterday she had a record of three straight wins.

Royal Visitor, that defeated Diadema yesterday in the third race at Windsor, is a grandson of Yo El Rey, brother of Yo Tambien and El Rio Rey, and one of the few horses in training closely related to this trio of wonderful Nevada-bred horses of thirty years ago.

There was delay of thirty minutes Thursday afternoon during the racing at Empire City on account of an electrical storm. The horses in the paddock and stables were very much frightened. The storm caused several surprises in the racing, among them the success of Brainstorm, several times defeated recently.

The feature at Windsor Friday afternoon will be the Walkerville Handicap, named for the town where the whisky used to come from. It is at three-quarters of a mile, and Commander Ross seems to have a mortgage on the purse with Baby Grand and Sailing B.

Followers of Chic Lang, the leading jockey at Empire City, had a fairly good day Thursday, as he won with Devastation and with Daniel. Next year Lang's younger brother, now being developed by James Arthur, will be riding

YANKEE PENNANT FLAG AND POLE ARE BLOWN DOWN

New York, July 14—Ball players are perhaps more susceptible to superstition than any other class of skilled laborers, and in the fury of the storm, which swept the city Thursday afternoon the American League pennant, which the Yanks won last year, and the flag pole from which it flies at the Polo Grounds, were ripped out of the center-field bleachers and sent hurtling to the fence.

The Yanks looked out through the mists from the dugouts and saw the pennant come down in the presence of the team which stands between them and another championship.

Ping Bodie is gone from the ranks of the Yankees, but if he had been at the Polo Grounds he would have probably said, "Gosh! an omen." Ping was superstitious. He never would allow three Yankee players to light a cigarette from the same match, and a broken mirror meant more than seven years of hard luck to him. It meant eternal disaster, and only the sight of a load of empty barrels would dissipate the sinister effect of its portent.

Camp Skinner, the reserve outfielder, told the Yankees later that he saw a wagon load of empty barrels late in the day. It made the Yankees feel better.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CUBS WIN IN 12TH.

Chicago, July 14—Chicago staged a batting rally in the 12th inning and defeated New York, 5 to 4. The Giants lost the services of Heine Groh who returned to the line-up today, when he injured his knee in attempting to field a bunt by O'Farrell in the 12th inning Groh turned the same knee and had to be carried off the field It was said it may be some time before he will be able to resume his old position again.

New York got the jump when Groh got a freak home run in the third which sent two runners in ahead of him. He hit down the third base line and the ball rolled under the fence. Chicago played an uphill battle behind Aldridge's good pitching and tied the count in the 9th.

Home Run Mark of National League Has Stood For Years

Ed Williamson, With 27 Circuit Clouts, Made in 1884, Has Mark—Hornsby to Break It.

BY JOHN B. FOSTER.

New York, July 14—All the fans are going to wake up one of these summer mornings and find that the dignified old National league record for home runs which has stood since 1884 has gone to oblivion like almost everything else in the record line.

Big Ed Williamson of the Chicagos, hammered 27 home runs in 1884. It doesn't do a bit of good for some unreconciled young folks to hang on to the belief that Cravath holds the National league home run record with a total of 24. It is a circumstance of wasted energy, wasted affection for Cravath and inaccuracy because there is not a doubt in the world that Williamson made those 27 home runs. The only wonder is that he didn't make more because in those days he was a player ten years ahead of his time and in these days he would be a player worth ten times as much as the average.

EASY FOR HORNSBY.

Hornsby of St. Louis is going to be the batter who buries Williamson's record. It is coming as sure as fate. Nothing can prevent it except a "stroke" for Hornsby or the suspension of baseball in the National league. He has Cravath practically beaten as it is with his total of 23 and almost half of the season to go and how long is Williamson's record likely to last with Hornsby batting as he is now?

The next question is how far Hornsby is likely to go. He has a fine chance to make a total of fifty if he keeps up his speed and he surely should make forty.

NOT UP TO BABE.

That is not as much as the elephantine record of the elephantine bambino of the New York Yanks. But its something. The National league at last will have a mark at which to point with pride The senior organization has had precious few crumbs of consolation in the way of individual achievement ever since the war and a triumph by Hornsby will be one event worth while.

GROTH INJURED AGAIN.

They carried Heinie Groh off the field in Chicago Thursday. He had twisted his knee. He may be out for sometime yet the Giants have little to fear Heinie Groth has not made the infield of the New York club more perfect than it was in 1921.

When Rawlings got a chance to play ball at second base the Giants began to move up in the race after they had been losing for some time Is it bad, therefore, to have Rawlings at second base. He seems to play more chances successfully than any other infielder of the Giants except Bancroft and there are days when he is as good as Bancroft.

The Giants lost in Chicago in 12 innings They couldn't hit. They might have lost before then if Groh hadn't made a freak home run. It was one of those home runs which count because the ball eludes the sight of the umpire by rolling under a stand.

CARDS LOST CHANCE.

While the Giants are being beaten the St. Louis team won from Philadelphia. That was a gain of a full game but St Louis lost its chance in the Philadelphia series. It should have cleaned up on it. Had the Cardinals come forth and won every game from Philadelphia with a display of rugged strength it would have been just and fair to say that the Cards were an aggressive winning team. To get pennants a team at sometime must take its bats in hand and run amuck. You don't win championships by apologizing to tailenders.

BOXING NEWS

BY FAIR PLAY.

New York, July 14— Harry Greb would not have been human if he had not celebrated to some extent at least his captured flyweight championship Reports to the contrary notwithstanding Harry has been enjoying himself—as his battle against Tommy Loughran showed It is high time that he began to see less of the white lights and to realize that his business is fighting, not fun making.

ANOTHER BOUT.

There will be another Grab-Loughran battle of course. One battle in these days of fighters, who are above all bright business men, is a mere opener Tommy made a good showing against the Pittsburgher and there will be thousands upon thousands who will pay advance prices and flock to the ringside to see the next battle.

Johnny Dundee and the scales are always at odds and the veteran fighter is engaged in another battle with the weighing beam right now. Dundee is a "natural" 130 pounder He holds a championship title at that weight although the 130 special division is not recognized outside of New York. That means that when he meets most other lightweights, he is giving away from 5 to 8 pounds to opponents who weigh in at the lightweight limit at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

DUNDEE VS FRUSH.

But if Johnny has trouble putting weight on, he has equal trouble taking it off. He is matched to meet Danny Frush at 126 pounds at 3 o'clock on August 14 to battle for the title of "pretender" to the featherweight crown at Ebbets field Brooklyn. The world's title of Johnny Kilbane no longer is recognized by the New York State Boxing commission and Dundee and Frush have been nominated to battle for it However, Kilbane the artful dodger of matches, probably will continue to be conidered the top of the featherweight heap no matter whether Dundee is able to make the weight and be strong enough to beat Frush or not

Dundee never has any trouble getting matches He fights fast and frequently. He has to for he now is possessed of a race horse and those hay burners certainly do eat up the coin.

[By the Associated Press]

Glencoe, Ill., July 14—The qualifying rounds in the national open golf tournament ended Thursday evening and Friday seventy-nine players, many of them champions, started the 72 hole finals for the American open championship.

Officially, the winner will be champion of the United States, but in the minds of many he will be considered holder of the world's golf title, for victory will be obtained only thru defeat of champion club swingers from all golfing sections of the world.

Twenty-four men won their way into today's qualifying round, Robert MacDonald, the long driving Chicago professional, leading the field with a score of 143, the score necessary to qualify again being 152. All of the better known stars qualified except A. A. Armour, Scottish amateur title holder and Freddie McLeod, the Washington, D. C. professional, who formerly held the open championship.

FOUR AMATEURS IN LIST.

Four amatours were in the lists of today's successes. Willie Hunter, former British champion, leading in the way among the non-professionals with a score of 75-70-145, while Harrison R. Johnston, St. Paul, took three strokes more. Dewey Weber, Chicago, also 148, and William Rautenbausch, another Chicagoan, were the others amateurs to qualify, making the total for the three days, 13.

For a time today it looked as if high scores would get by, but gradually the totals became lower until it was found there were seventeen men under the 150 mark, where there were only thirteen Monday and fourteen Tuesday. Willie Hunter spoiled the hopes of the players with 153 and 154 when he shot the afternoon round in par 70, his 145 total being all that was necessary to push out those beyond 152.

MAC PLAYED GREAT GAME.

Bob MacDonald, in leading the field, played an exceptionally good game, at times being on the verge of brilliancy, but at others falling down on opportunities to break a par total. His driving was the best seen here in many a day, but even barring Abe Mitchell's. Time after time he sent the ball sailing down the fairways for a 290-300 yard carry and, but the soft fairways, which held up the rolls, he would have made some record breaking tee shots. The best part of Bob's driving was that he sent them straight. It was on the greens that McDonald got into most of his trouble.

PAIRED WITH O'HARA.

MacDonald, paired with Pat O'Hara, of Richmond county, New York, drew the biggest gallery and their playing deserved it. O'Hara, after some very bad holes in the morning and early afternoon, pulled himself together with some great weakness at the start—and ended with 147. Four of the qualifiers turned in par seventies in one of their rounds, the quartet being Ned McKenna, of Rochester, N. Y.; Willie Hunter, George Kerrigan, of White Beeches, N. J. and P. O. Hart of Marietta, O.

HART'S WORK REMARKABLE.

Hart's work in the afternoon was remarkable for he had taken 82—12 over par in the morning—and seemed hopelessly out of the running. In the first afternoon nine he had a six on a five hole and a five on a four hole, which with other bad luck, gave him 37 against par 34. Then he made the last nine in 33, three strokes less than perfect figures, totalling 70 for the 18 and 152 for the 36—exactly few enough to qualify A perusal of his afternoon card showed he played six of the holes in seventeen strokes, an average of less than three to the hole, while fifteen holes were made in fifty-three swings, an average of a fraction more than four.

JIM THORPE ACTS LIKE BAD INDIAN

Hartford, Conn., July 14—Jim Thorpe, the Indian athlete, who has been playing center field for the Hartford Eastern League team and hitting over .300 since late in May, when he arrived from Oregon much heralded as to prowess and cost was yesterday indefinitely suspended and fined $50 by the Hartford team management. Another fine of $50 was imposed by President Dan O'Neil of the Eastern League for Thorpe's action in climbing into the New Haven grandstand yesterday to reach his critics, who vigorously voiced their opinions of his startling conduct on the field, where he gave imitations of a wooden Indian chasing flies.

GELDING WINNER OF FEATURE RACE

Peter Coley Captures 2:05 Trot At Toledo.

Toledo, O., July 14— Peter Coley, A. E. Dorsey's Findlay, O., gelding with Harry Stokes driving won the Maumee 2.05 trot, feature event of the grand circuit card here Thursday, by nosing out Nedda the favorite in the last two heats.

In the first heat Nedda overtook the field at the quarter post after a bad start and pulled away for a length within a head of Kilowatts and E. Colorado. Peter Coley broke badly at the stretch and finished a poor fourth.

FASTEST MILE.

Nedda trotted a great race in the second heat after getting away fully four lengths behind the others at the flag. Peter Coley won by a nose from the fast stepping favorite but Nedda went the fastest mile of the year, separately timed, completing the circuit in 2:02¾. The little mare made the last half in 59 seconds, the fastest half of the year.

In the final heat, Driver Fleming held Nedda for a stretch finish but the mare was unable to overtake the Findlay gelding and finished second

Four heats were necessary to decide the 2:10 pace which was won by Parker Boy.

FIRST FOR GEERS.

"Pop" Geers won his first race at Fort Miami and the second of the season when he piloted Noble Argot to a victory in the second heat in the Turkey Foot 2:17 trot. In the second heat Noble Argot paid $66.60 on a $2 ticket.

The 2:14 trot went four heats before it was finally won by Holly Rood Hilda.

MAY STEM FOREIGN SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

Berlin.—Accommodations at most of Germany's universities and technical high schools have been so severely cramped since the war by increasing enrollments that steps are being suggested for stemming the rising percentage of foreigners. Students from abroad are estimated to constitute 25 per cent of the registration.

A leader in the movement to restrict the foreign influx states that in his lecture room he has noted from 50 to 100 non-Germans, made up principally of Bulgarians, Rumanians, Russians, Hungarians, Jugoslavs and South Africans. He declares that preparation of these "outsiders" frequently is insufficient and that their conduct, often "leaves much to be desired." While emphasizing the need of some curtailment in the enrollment and favoring action against foreigners to this end, he observes that caution should be exercised to avoid political or diplomatic embarrassment through too stringent procedure.

Schmidt to Pirates.

Pittsburgh, July 13. — Walter Schmidt, mainstay of the Pittsburgh Nationals catching staff of last year, who held out for a salary increase this season and was suspended from organized baseball, has accepted the latest terms of the Pirates on overtures from Bill McKechnie, the team's new manager, and will apply at once to Judge Landis for reinstatement in order to assume his place behind the bat, Sam Dreyfuss announced Thursday night.

"Bo" Too Fast.

Chicago, July 14.—"Bo" McMillan, former captain of the famous Centre College football team, Friday was out something more than $10 because his fleetness was matched Thursday. He drove through Wilmette, a suburb, at the rate of 33 miles an hour and a motorcycle policeman told a magistrate who arrested the gridiron star. "$10 and costs."

Gillenwater Named.

Danville, Ill., July 14.—Roy Gillenwater, who has been a member of the local club all of this season, and who formerly was a member of the Giants, was appointed manager of the local Three I League club following a long conference here Thursday night. He succeeds "Iron Man" McGinnity, who was released following the loss of many games during the past five weeks.

Home Run Mark of National League Has Stood For Years

Ed Williamson, With 27 Circuit Clouts, Made in 1884, Has Mark—Hornsby to Break It.

BY JOHN B. FOSTER.

New York, July 14—All the fans are going to wake up one of these summer mornings and find that the dignified old National league record for home runs which has stood since 1884 has gone to oblivion like almost everything else in the record line.

Big Ed Williamson of the Chicagos, hammered 27 home runs in 1884. It doesn't do a bit of good for some unreconciled young folks to hang on to the belief that Cravath holds the National league home run record with a total of 24. It is a circumstance of wasted energy, wasted affection for Cravath and inaccuracy because there is not a doubt in the world that Williamson made those 27 home runs. The only wonder is that he didn't make more because in those days he was a player ten years ahead of his time and in these days he would be a player worth ten times as much as the average.

EASY FOR HORNSBY.

Hornsby of St. Louis is going to be the batter who buries Williamson's record. It is coming as sure as fate. Nothing can prevent it except a "stroke" for Hornsby or the suspension of baseball in the National league. He has Cravath practically beaten as it is with his total of 23 and almost half of the season to go and how long is Williamson's record likely to last with Hornsby batting as he is now?

The next question is how far Hornsby is likely to go. He has a fine chance to make a total of fifty if he keeps up his speed and he surely should make forty.

NOT UP TO BABE.

That is not as much as the elephantine record of the elephantine bambino of the New York Yanks. But its something. The National league at last will have a mark at which to point with pride. The senior organization has had precious few crumbs of consolation in the way of individual achievement ever since the war and a triumph by Hornsby will be one event worth while.

GROTH INJURED AGAIN.

They carried Heinie Groh off the field in Chicago Thursday. He had twisted his knee. He may be out for sometime yet the Giants have little to fear. Heinie Groth has not made the infield of the New York club more perfect than it was in 1921.

When Rawlings got a chance to play ball at second base the Giants began to move up in the race after they had been losing for some time. Is it bad, therefore, to have Rawlings at second base. He seems to play more chances successfully than any other infielder of the Giants except Bancroft and there are days when he is as good as Bancroft.

The Giants lost in Chicago in 12 innings. They couldn't hit. They might have lost before then if Groh hadn't made a freak home run. It was one of those home runs which count because the ball eludes the sight of the umpire by rolling under a stand.

CARDS LOST CHANCE.

While the Giants are being beaten the St. Louis team won from Philadelphia. That was a gain of a full game but St. Louis lost its chance in the Philadelphia series. It should have cleaned up on it. Had the Cardinals come forth and won every game from Philadelphia with a display of rugged strength it would have been just and fair to say that the Cards were an aggressive winning team. To get pennants a team at sometime must take its bats in hand and run amuck. You don't win championships by apologizing to tailenders.

BOXING NEWS

BY FAIR PLAY.

New York, July 14— Harry Greb would not have been human if he had not celebrated to some extent at least his captured flyweight championship. Reports to the contrary notwithstanding Harry has been enjoying himself—as his battle against Tommy Loughran showed it is high time that he began to see less of the white lights and to realize that his business is fighting, not fun making.

ANOTHER BOUT.

There will be another Greb-Loughran battle of course. One battle in these days of fighters, who are above all bright business men, is a mere opener. Tommy made a good showing against the Pittsburgher and there will be thousands upon thousands who will pay advance prices and flock to the ringside to see the next battle.

Johnny Dundee and the scales are always at odds and the veteran fighter is engaged in another battle with the weighing beam right now. Dundee is a "natural" 130 pounder. He holds a championship title at that weight although the 130 special division is not recognized outside of New York. That means that when he meets most other lightweights he is giving away from 5 to 8 pounds to opponents who weigh in at the lightweight limit at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

DUNDEE VS. FRUSH

But if Johnny has trouble putting weight on, he has equal trouble taking it off. He is matched to meet Danny Frush at 126 pounds at 3 o'clock on August 14 to battle for the title of "pretender" to the featherweight crown at Ebbets field Brooklyn. The world's title of Johnny Kilbane no longer is recognized by the New York State Boxing commission and Dundee and Frush have been nominated to battle for it. However, Kilbane the artful dodger of matches, probably will continue to be considered the top of the featherweight heap no matter whether Dundee is able to make the weight and be strong enough to beat Frush or not.

Dundee never has any trouble getting matches. He fights fast and frequently. He has to for he now is possessed of a race horse and those bay burners certainly do eat up the

Glencoe, Ill., July 14—The qualifying rounds in the national open golf tournament ended Thursday evening and Friday seventy-nine players, many of them champions, started the 72 hole finals for the American open championship.

Officially, the winner will be champion of the United States, but in the minds of many he will be considered holder of the world's golf title, for victory will be obtained only thru defeat of champion club swingers from all golfing sections of the world.

Twenty-four men won their way into today's qualifying round. Robert MacDonald, the long driving Chicago professional, leading the field with a score of 143, the score necessary to qualify again being 152. All of the better known stars qualified except A. A. Armour, Scottish amateur title holder and Freddie McLeod, the Washington, D. C. professional, who formerly held the open championship.

FOUR AMATEURS IN LIST.

Four amateurs were in the lists of today's successes Willie Hunter, former British champion, leading in the way among the non-professionals with a score of 75-70-145, while Harrison R. Johnston, St. Paul, took three strokes more. Dewey Weber, Chicago, also 148, and William Rautenbausch, another Chicagoan, were the others amateurs to qualify, making the total for the three days, 13.

For a time today it looked as if high scores would get by, but gradually the totals became lower until it was found there were seventeen men under the 150 mark, where there were only thirteen Monday and fourteen Tuesday. Willie Hunter spoiled the hopes of the players with 153 and 154 when he shot the afternoon round in par 70, his 145 total being all that was necessary to push out those beyond 152.

MAC PLAYED GREAT GAME.

Bob MacDonald, in leading the field, played an exceptionally good game, at times being on the verge of brilliancy, but at others falling down on opportunities to break a par total. His driving was the best seen here in many a day, but even barring Abe Mitchell's. Time after time he sent the ball sailing down the fairways for a 290-300 yard carry and, but the soft fairways, which held up the rolls, he would have made some record breaking tee shots. The best part of Bob's driving was that he sent them straight. It was on the greens that McDonald got into most of his trouble.

PAIRED WITH O'HARA.

MacDonald, paired with Pat O'Hara, of Richmond county, New York, drew the biggest gallery and their playing deserved it. O'Hara, after some very bad holes in the morning and early afternoon, pulled himself together with some great weakness at the start—and ended with 147. Four of the qualifiers turned in par seventies in one of their rounds, the quartet being Ned McKenna, of Rochester, N. Y.; Willie Hunter; George Kerrigan, of White Beeches, N. J. and P. O. Hart of Marietta, O.

HART'S WORK REMARKABLE.

Hart's work in the afternoon was remarkable for he had taken 82—12 over par in the morning—and seemed hopelessly out of the running. In the first afternoon nine he had a six on a five hole and a five on a four hole, which with other bad luck, gave him 37 against par 34. Then he made the last nine in 33, three strokes less than perfect figures, totalling 70 for the 18 and 152 for the 36—exactly few enough to qualify. A perusal of his afternoon card showed he played six of the holes in seventeen strokes, an average of less than three to the hole, while fifteen holes were made in fifty-three swings, an average of a fraction more than four.

JIM THORPE ACTS LIKE BAD INDIAN

Hartford, Conn., July 14.—Jim Thorpe, the Indian athlete, who has been playing center field for the Hartford Eastern League team and hitting over .300 since late in May, when he arrived from Oregon much heralded as to prowess and cost was yesterday indefinitely suspended and fined $50 by the Hartford team management. Another fine of $50 was imposed by President Dan O'Neil of the Eastern League for Thorpe's action in climbing into the New Haven grandstand yesterday to reach his critics, who vigorously voiced their opinions of his startling conduct on the field, where he gave imitations of a wooden Indian chasing flies.

GELDING WINNER OF FEATURE RACE

Peter Coley Captures 2:05 Trot At Toledo.

Toledo, O., July 14— Peter Coley, A. E. Dorsey's Findlay, O., gelding with Harry Stokes driving won the Maumee 2:05 trot, feature event of the grand circuit card here Thursday, by nosing out Nedda the favorite in the last two heats.

In the first heat Nedda overtook the field at the quarter post after a bad start and pulled away for a length within a head of Kilowatts and E. Colorado. Peter Coley broke badly at the stretch and finished a poor fourth.

FASTEST MILE.

Nedda trotted a great race in the second heat after getting away fully four lengths behind the others at the flag. Peter Coley won, by a nose from the fast stepping favorite but Nedda went the fastest mile of the year, separately timed, completing the circuit in 2:02¾. The little mare made the last half in 59 seconds, the fastest half of the year.

In the final heat, Driver Fleming held Nedda for a stretch finish but the mare was unable to overtake the Findlay gelding and finished second.

Four heats were necessary to decide the 2:10 pace which was won by Parker Boy.

FIRST FOR GEERS.

"Pop" Geers won his first race at Fort Miami and the second of the season when he piloted Noble Argot to a victory in the second heat in the Turkey Foot 2:17 trot. In the second heat Noble Argot paid $66.60 on a $2 ticket.

The 2:14 trot went four heats before it was finally won by Holly Rood Hilda.

MAY STEM FOREIGN SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

Berlin.—Accommodations at most of Germany's universities and technical high schools have been so severely cramped since the war by increasing enrollments that steps are being suggested for stemming the rising percentage of foreigners. Students from abroad are estimated to constitute 25 per cent of the registration.

A leader in the movement to restrict the foreign influx states that in his lecture room he has noted from 50 to 100 non-Germans, made up principally of Bulgarians, Rumanians, Russians, Hungarians, Jugoslavs and South Africans. He declares that preparation of these "outsiders" frequently is insufficient and that their conduct, often "leaves much to be desired." While emphasizing the need of some curtailment in the enrollment and favoring action against foreigners to this end, he observes that caution should be exercised to avoid political or diplomatic embarrassment through too stringent procedure.

Schmidt to Pirates.

Pittsburgh, July 13. — Walter Schmidt, mainstay of the Pittsburgh Nationals catching staff of last year, who held out for a salary increase this season and was suspended from organized baseball, has accepted the latest terms of the Pirates on overtures from Bill McKechnie, the team's new manager, and will apply at once to Judge Landis for reinstatement in order to assume his place behind the bat, Sam Dreyfuss announced Thursday night.

"Bo" Too Fast.

Chicago, July 14.—"Bo" McMillan, former captain of the famous Centre College football team, Friday was out something more than $10 because his fleetness was matched Thursday. He drove through Wilmette, a suburb, at the rate of 33 miles an hour and a motorcycle policeman told a magistrate who arrested the gridiron star. "$10 and costs."

Gillenwater Named.

Danville, Ill., July 14.—Roy Gillenwater, who has been a member of the local club all of this season, and who formerly was a member of the Giants, was appointed manager of the local Three I League club following a long conference here Thursday night. He succeeds "Iron Man" McGinnity, who was released following the loss of many games during the past five weeks.

SUPT. RICHESON WILL BE BUSY MAN

Office of Business Manager Abolished.

No successor to Arthur Kinkade as business manager of the Decatur public schools has been appointed or will be appointed As a mater of fact there is no such job in the schools as business manager. This statement was made by President H M. Owen of the board when asked if any appointment was to be made

When Mr Kinkade resigned the position was abolished and it will probably never be reestablished until Decatur is a much larger city than it now is It may be that later the office of supervisor of buildings may be created but there is no intention now of doing that.

WILL BE BUSY MAN

The buildings and school property of all kinds will be under the general charge of the superintendent of schools That will add very, materially to his duties and Superintendent Richeson will be a very busy man. But the plan will be tried out for the next school year It may be found that the superintendent will need a man to look after building and other duties If so, such a man will be appointed but not until the present arrangement has been tried out.

CLERICAL WORK

The clerical work of the public school business office which has been under the direction of the business manager will from now on be in charge of Miss Lydia Huber, who is the chief accountant. Quite possibly there will need to be some change in the assignment of duties of the business office force The purchase of school supplies which is in itself a very large item will be under the direct control of the superintendent. School supplies for the various buildings are issued upon requisitions signed by the principals and these requisitions will go directly to the superintendent instead of a business manager

THESE 4 YACHTS, UNDER FULL SAIL, ATTRACT ATTENTION

Charles A Black a regatta on the parking in front of his photographic establishment in the 100 block West King street is a continuous delight to boys and not a few grown ups Four yachts under full sail are in close competition for the honors None of them ever wins and if it did the regatta would end but they keep striving It is indeed a most interesting and ingenious device the general plan of which is that of the old fashioned winding blades with a full rigged schooner at the end of each blade It is operated by the wind and the stronger the wind the faster the ships sail about their four-foot circle The ships are beautifully rigged and their action is perfect.

BOYHOOD TOY.

Mr Black is several kinds of a genius and he says that this device is merely a revival of one his boyhood toys Its construction must involve some expert knowledge of ship rigging sails and gear, to say nothing of resolution of forces and other abstruse facts of physics There is a base that sits firmly on or in the ground an upright two feet high and the arms pivoted on the upright. The wind and the sails do the rest.

The idea might be applied to the merry-go-round and something decidedly new be added to this popular country-fair and picnic attraction Of course a brake would have to be devised so that it might be stopped without waiting for the wind to cease blowing

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Margaret Roach, supervising principal of the Roach school, and Miss Grace Kershner of the Riverside school were the only Decatur teachers to attend the summer meeting of the N. E. A. in Boston this year.

A retaining wall is being built at the Roach school and the yard is being graded. The yard has never been properly graded since the addition to this building was completed.

BIG INTEREST IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Entries Continue to Come in Steadily.

Interest in the district tennis tournament July 24, at the Y. M. C. A, is steadily growing and there is every indication that there will be at least forty Decatur men entered in the singles alone, with possibly ten or more local doubles teams competing

MANY ENTRIES

Entries from other counties in the district, it is expected, will bring the single entries list up to about seventy-five or eighty. The date July 24, will find most of the players at the top of their racquet form

"Short" Doherty and 'Doc' West, the Mutt and Jeff, of the local tennis camp, are the favorites for the doubles championship in the minds of a great many of the Decatur experts, but they are going to encounter some stiff opposition before the meet is over West hasn't been on the courts as much this year as formerly and that fact will affect his game

Entries for the affair will not close until the morning of the meet when the drawings will be made. A flock of last minute contenders will probably show up

RESURFACING COURTS

Ed Rothwell who is doing most of the preliminary work for the tournament, is overseeing the resurfacing of the courts for the last ten days and by tournament time they should be in fine shape Dr W. E Hart, Edward Odor and a third man to be selected by the first two named, will have charge of the actual running of the tournament, with Harry Haines, who is in full charge of the affair, having general supervision

SET STAKES FOR WIDENING ROAD

First Actual Work Done On Route 2.

The first actual work in the construction of Section 50, Route 2, was done when P T Hicks, county superintendent of highways, and N. E Sprague, resident engineer for the state highway department, began Thursday morning the setting of stakes for widening of the road just north of the city

It appears that the pavement will not follow exactly the old road way and the state aid grade that was made a few years ago but the center of the pavement will be several feet to the west of the center of the present road way and it will be necessary to secure additional right of way on that side of the road

All matters concerning the right of way will have to be arranged before the actual building of the road is commenced. If the McMahon Construction Company begins pouring concrete the last week in July the graders will have to get busy at once

CRAFTS CHAIRMAN HAS LOTS OF FUN KIDDING SUPT. HESS

Rides On Pass To Decatur While Hess Gets Out The Engines.

While the present strike situation is regretted by everyone who is in anyway connected with it and while it tends to having a depressing effect, still there are times when both sides have to have a laugh together. Fortunately in Decatur there is not a bitter feeling between the craftsmen and the Wabash officials as exists in other cities and this is especially true between the craft leaders and Superintendent of Motive Powers George F. Hess, his assistant, Mr Eisele, and others.

GUARD ACCOMPANIED THEM.

Wednesday morning General Chairman F. R. Lee of the crafts on the Wabash system, being in Decatur on the day, decided he wanted to see Mr. Hess working in a uniform of grease and overalls and to "kid the boss" awhile. With A. D Mercer, they two went to one of the entrances to the roundhouse yard and, not having passes to enter, had one of the deputy sheriffs, who was on guard at the gate, take them over to see Mr. Hess in the roundhouse,

The fun started as soon as Mr. Hess saw the party of three approaching him, still some distance away.

DEPUTY WAS SHOCKED.

"Get those reprobates out of here" shouted the Superintendent, of Motive Power with his usual stern and serious look, and, of course, Chairman Lee immediately had equally as hard an answer. Now the deputy was not acquainted with these men well and didn't know just how well they were acquainted. This form of greeting startled, shocked, stunned him. He was afraid he had gone a step too far and that these men were going to have a fight there but as soon as Hess walked up to Lee and picked out the only cigar left in Lee's pocket, bit off the end and lit it, the deputy realized it was only fun.

"You're a sweet looking specimen," said Lee.

"Yes, but you should see us turning out the engines," replied Hess. "How'd you get over here from Moberly anyway? Surely couldn't pay your way?"

GOT PASS.

"That's just what I come over to show you," laughed Lee. "See you took our passes away from us so I just got hold of Mr. Cotter and he issued me a pass to Decatur and back. What do you think of that?"

'TWAS "DIRTY TRICK."

"It's a dirty trick," shouted both Hess and Eisele. "We ought to go on a strike outselves. Here we are in here working hard, getting out engines to haul you around over the line."

And so the fun proceeded for fifteen or twenty minutes while a stranger at a distance would have thought all the time that a fight was in progress. One can always figure on seeing a lot of fun and no bad feeling when these two groups get together.

DECATUR GETS 1923 SHOE MEN'S MEET

Action Taken At Convention in Peoria.

Decatur was selected as the 1923 convention city by members of the Illinois Shoe Retailers' association in their final convention session in the gold room of the Jefferson hotel in Peoria Wednesday afternoon.

The selection of delegates for the national convention at Chicago, in January, resolutions passed concerning the trade, thanking outside speakers for their co-operation in the organization's behalf, and affiliating the association with the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and round table discussion completed the closing day.

The three delegates selected were: Arthur E. Schulein, president-elect, Rockford, delegate; Frank Meyer, Springfield, alternate, and W. H. Ackerman, secretary, delegate-at-large.

Local men who attended were Tom Folrath, C. E. Rodgers and Alva A. Brougher. A number of Decatur commercial travelers, who are associate members of the association were present also.

WESTERN GIRLS ON VACATION IN RENTED AIRPLANE

On a vacation, Miss Ire[illegible], above, and her chum, Miss Eva Hope.

St. Paul, Minn.—Two girls plus two knicker suits plus one rented airplane make one ideal vacation.

That's the belief of Miss Eva Hope and Miss Irene Conley—and they're going to prove it in practice.

They've tried all the conventional forms of summer vacationing—and they're equally bored by all of them.

So they flew away from St. Paul in a plane the other day, planning to make their first landing wherever convenient in northern Wisconsin. They'll spend three weeks hopping from place to place.

It's the first time either girl has been in a plane.

GERMAN MONEY IS HELPING SOVIETS

Petrograd—German private capital and the Soviet government have launched a corporation which bids fair virtually to monopolize the inland water transportation of Russia.

Simultaneously with the signing of the Russo-German treaty at Rapallo, last April, an agreement was signed by M. Karakhan, assistant Commissar for foreign affairs, and M. Leshava, assistant Commissar for foreign trade, acting on behalf of the Soviet government, with the German firm of Robert Wenkhaus, of Hamburg, granting the Germans a concession for the transportation of home and foreign goods through the Baltic Sea, the Caspian Sea, and the Mariinsky Canal system, which connects the basin of the Volga with the Neva.

LONDON, CITY OF FOG, SMOKE, SOOT

London—London leads the world in fog, smoke and soot. During a single month, according to the Department of Health, 47 tons of dirt were dumped from the air upon the unsuspecting heads of the populace. Of this mass approximately 27½ tons were soluble and 19½ tons were insoluble, and consisted of tar, carbon and grit.

London is no place for white collars, straw hats, Palm Beach suits or light-colored gowns. These soon assume a black hue which even the laundries find it difficult to remove. Hatmakers are overdoming the dirt by making this summer's straw hats a deep black.

MEXICO CITY ENJOYS FREEDOM OF PRESS

Mexico City—Freedom of the press in Mexico is as near a reality now as has been recorded during the past half century, according to competent observers. Contrasted with the censorship days of Huerta and Carranza, editors and correspondents are enjoying almost unprecedented liberty, and President Obregon on several occasions has emphasized that newspapers and other publications are free to go as far as they like

BULGARIA SEETHES WITH AGITATION

Protest Greets Universal Work Law.

Sofia, Bulgaria.—When Premier Stambouliisky conceived the idea that it would be a good thing to compel every able-bodied man and woman in Bulgaria to work 10 days a year for the state, he probably expected the trouble which has ensued, for he is described as a far-sighted statesman with an active imagination. In any event he has entered the lists to defend the weak spots in his innovation, and his principal opponents are the young women of the land.

REFUSE TO OBEY.

In the first place the young moslem women of Bulgaria have refused point blank to do a thing. They cite the position given them in their homes by their religion, and refer the authorities to various groups of fathers and brothers armed with knives, pistols and rifles who are volently opposed to their female relatives donating their labor to the state. The premier has proposed they be deprived of their vote, and has threatened arrest. The women still resist passively. Now Stamboulisky says they will work for the government, or he will know the reason why.

WILL BE INTERESTING.

September will be interesting, for then the 1922 class of women will be called to labor without pay in public buildings, gardens, etcetera. And the women other than those of the moslem faith say they will work when the moslem women do, in the meantime offering encouragement and support to their belligerent sisters.

LONDON BUILDING MANY DWELLINGS

London.—Commodious, well-built dwelling houses are going up at Feltham, a suburb of London, at the rate of one a day. Such speed in building has never been witnessed here before. It is all the more striking because it occurs at a time when complaints are heard on every side that the British workman is not what he used to be, and that nothing will induce him to get through any job at the ordinary speed of an American workman.

Flowers are eloquent—they say the things which are difficult to say in words. There is no happier way to express sympathy for invalids and "shut-ins" than by a gift of flowers.

Apple sauce from the new summer apples, blackberry pie, cantaloupe or water melon is found on practically every table in Decatur during at least one meal of the day now, usually at more than one meal.

BERRIES

Home grown blackberries are being offered and as this fruit will not stand up under shipping conditions the season will be short They are retailing at twenty to twenty-five cents a box.

Other berries are out of the market except huckleberries which come from the north. These are forty cents a box and the sale is limited.

WOMAN IS "MAYOR" OF TOWN HOUSED IN OFFICE BUILDING

MISS ANNA MARCUS AND "DIXIEVILLE," OVER WHICH SHE RULES.

Cincinnati—On a door on the tenth floor of the Dixie Terminal, which is an office building, arcade and street railway terminal in one, is a signe that reads:

"MISS ANNA MARCUS BUILDING MANAGER"

And inside presides a young woman who from a large mahogany desk rules the community that inhabits the vast building. She is Miss Anna Marcus

She is, in fact, the mayor of a private town all housed n one building—a town with a Main street, the arcade, that has in it 50 stores of all kinds

Dixie Terminal it's named. Call it rather "Dixieville"

In Miss Marcus' "Dixieville" there is a union traction depot where 85,000 persons go every day to take street cars for the over-the-river towns in Kentucky

Over all is the ten-story Dixie office building, at present occupied by 1,000 workers and ultimately to be occupied by about 1,500 more.

Over this domain Miss Marcus is boss. It is her business to see to it that every room and store in "Dixieville" is populated with none but the desirable

She watches the windows in the stores of "Dixieville's" Main street, because under its laws every window must look like its neighbor, with no garnish posters

She makes all contracts for improvements and repairs; she runs the electric service, she bosses the janitors and the scrubwomen and the rest of the working force; she receives the complaints and suggestions of the inhabitants and collects the rentals.

And, in between, she has an eye on the elevators, keeping before her the daily mileage of each elevator and the number of stops each makes, in order to check them up for efficiency and economy

The lady-boss of "Dixieville" gets to work at 9 a m and seldom quits before 6; and two or three nights a week she returns to her office for more work after supper.

"Yes it's a job that keeps the mind busy," says Miss Marcus. "And what keeps the mind busy keeps one happy. That's why I like it."

CONSIDER HOME RULE FOR BURMA

London—Home Rule for Burma has been taken up by the House of Commons. The subject was expounded by Earl Winterton, who said that the proposed Burmese constitution provided a Council of State and a Legislative Assembly, and went even further than was contemplated in India.

NO WOMAN VOTE.

In India no woman had a vote, the speaker said, but in Burma under the proposed constitution there would be no sex disqualification, the reason being that Burmese women were far more advanced than their Indian sisters. All the heads of Burmese households would be virtually enfranchised. The total electorate, urban and rural would be 3,000,000, of whom 200,000 would be women. The principle that there should be no taxation without representation—the principle for which the American colonies fought, and won their independence—would be conceded to Burma without a struggle.

Mrs. Larson was born in Sweden in 1888 and died in a hospital in Decatur, following an operation. She leaves her husband and three sons. She also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindstrom, and three brothers in Sweden and two brothers in the United States.

BIG CROWD AT COMMUNITY SING

Program Was Pleasing One —Another Planned.

An enthusiastic crowd of singers, who gathered on the lawn at the Art Institute Thursday night, showed that Decatur is not lacking interest in community sings. The sing lasted about an hour and was under the direction of D. M. Swarthout, with M. L. Swarthout accompanying at the piano. The lawn held between 300 and 400 people and the driveway to the Art Institute and the streets at either side were lined with cars filled with people.

SPECIAL NUMBERS.

It was found that "The Home Road" was known to many and "Mother Machree" was sung with an understanding note. Miss Bernice Taylor sang a solo "Peggy O'Neill" in a pleasing manner and the audience joined in the chorus. Mr. Swarthout had a group of small children sitting in front of him join in the chorus once, which pleased them as well as the grownups.

Ernest Felten, one of Decatur's promising bass singers, sang two numbers, "Three for Jack" and "A Chip off the Old Block". He added a few humorous and dramatic touches, which pleased his audience.

"I Love a Lassie," Harry Lauder's favorite song, was sung, as was also "A Perfect Day". The women's voices were heard to better advantage in the latter song than the men's. A part of this was sung without accompaniment.

ANOTHER NEXT WEEK.

The sing ended with "Auld Lang Syne." It was announced that a similar sing will be held Thursday evening, July 27, by which time the directors of the Art Institute will have installed more lights over the lawn and everyone can see better.

MARS CENTER OF MUCH ATTENTION

Flagstaff Ariz July 14— Members of the staff of Lowell Observatory here are elated over recent studies of the planet Mars which they assert, bear out the theories of the late Percival Lowell, founder of the observatory, as to snowfall and vegetation on the little red planet

Mars, nearest neighbor of this world with the exception of Venus, is closer to the earth now than at any time in 78 years. Observations have been in progress for the past five months each hour of every night that weather conditions would permit Hundreds of photographs and charts have been made.

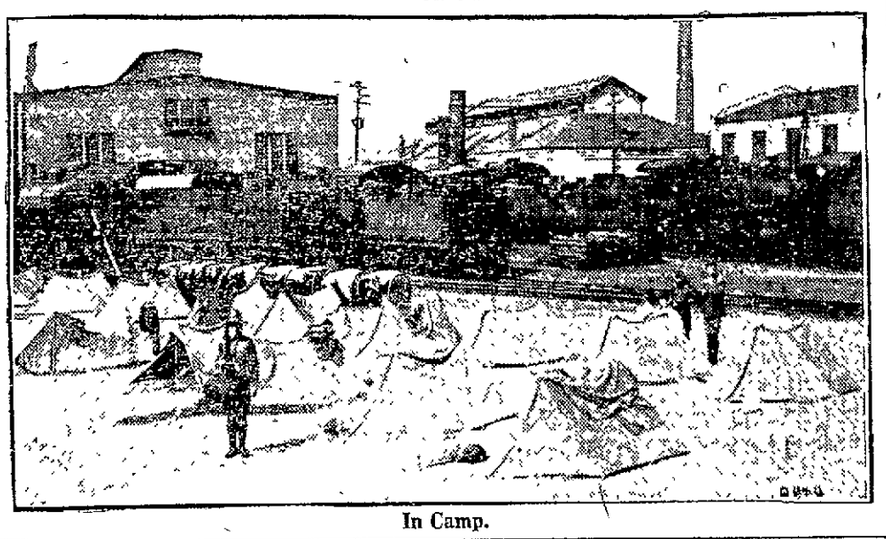
TROOPS GUARD ILLINOIS RAIL SHOPS

Col. Culbertson, Commanding Officer.

Ready for Action.

On Guard.



In Camp.

The 130th infantry of the Illinois National Guard has taken charge of affairs at Bloomington, Ill., following trouble between strikers and workmen at the Chicago & Alton shops.

Many men were beaten and Bert Dickson, night roundhouse foreman, and a relative of W. G. Bierd, president of the C. & A., was tarred and feathered before the troops were called out.

At the right (top) are shown two of the machine guns set up in the C. & A. yards. The roundhouse can be seen in the background.

The center picture shows a group of strikers stopped by a guardsman at the property line of the C. & A. shops. The soldiers have established a complete circle about the plant and allow no one to pass.

Below is shown the camp of Company D, 130th infantry, in the C. & A. yards at Bloomington. The roundhouse is in the rear.

RECOUNTS STORY OF SISTER'S MURDER

Mackinaw, July 14—After a fruitless following of clews Wednesday the officers of the law seem lost in their search for the four men who Wednesday night entered a farm home three miles southeast of this place and killed one defenseless woman, frightened her sister, who was deathly sick, into a hysterical state, and were frightened away because of the escape from the house of the nurse who had been caring for the sick woman.

TELLS OF MURDER.

Miss Marriet Harris was too weak to talk to visitors but her story as repeated by Mrs Woods was in substance as follows:

"I heard men in Susan's room, and heard her scream Then I could hear her being strangled and at last her cries were stilled by the gag they had placed in her mouth and the chubing they gave her.

FOUR ASSAILANTS.

The men came into my room. I could see them; there were four They grabbed me and gagged me I saw them handling my watch and throw it into a satchel which contained other shiny things that looked like silver-ware. They got my purse, too, with what money was in it Before they gagged me I said to them

"SPARE MRS. WOODS."

'Please don't hurt Mrs. Woods, she is such a good woman and takes such good care of us' I heard one man go into Mrs Wood's room and said he felt the bed and it was warm, and that there was somebody in that room and she had got away.

BEAT HASTY RETREAT.

Then one of the men said, 'We had better get out of here, quick' Another said, 'Let us search the house' But the first replied, 'You can stay and search the house, but we are going to get out' Another man said, 'Let us cut the telephone wires,' but I told them there was no telephone in the house

FOUND SISTER DEAD

They ran out, and soon afterward I prayed for strength to get on my feet, and I went into Susan's room and found her dead. She was suffocated, and her head was split open on the right temple There was blood all over the bed I took the gag out of Susan's mouth and stayed with her till help came."

GOT LITTLE MONEY.

If robbery was the motive of the killing, the thugs got little pay for their trouble. The purse which they stole did not contain over $15 or $20 and there was little else of value in the house It had been reported that the women had sold a cow the day before and it may have been thought that the money for this sale was in the house

WOULD REDUCE COST OF FILLING HOLE

Engineers Looking for the Least Expensive Method.

Following the receipt of bids by the city council Thursday based on percentage and yardage to be handled for the filling of the hole in the bed of the river down stream from the water impounding dam, engineers for the Water Supply company are working them out to see what method will cost the least money.

It is hoped that a plan may be found whereby the first estimated of $25,000 as the cost of filling the hole and placing concrete riprap boulder at the edge of the apron may be materially reduced.

TWO BIDS MADE.

Jobst & Gates, contractors doing work on one of the approaches to the new Nelson park bridge, made an offer of fifty-three cents a cubic yard for moving the sand and gravel into the hole and a percentage on the cost of doing the other work. Bowshier & McGarry made a bid based on a straight percentage on the total cost of doing the work.

It is possible that neither bid will be accepted if a method of doing the work at lower cost can be figured out by the engineers.

PALESTINE BUSY WITH INDUSTRIES

Jerusalem—The industrial development of Palestine under the Jews is moving forward in leaps and bounds, and this in spite of the many trade quarrels that have sprung up of late between employer and employe.

During the past year no less than 4,000 licenses were issued for new trades and industries in Palsetine. The extent of this development can be judged from the fact that prior to 1921 only 2,500 licenses were registered by the government. This means that nearly two-thirds of the enterprises in Palestine were started within the last year —The capital invested in each of these new ventures ranges from $20,000 to $50,000, but with such notable exceptions as the Silicite company, of Jaffa, with a capital of $500,000, and the Standard Oil company, now exploiting the Dead Sea Basin.

NEVER MIND THE COMPETITION

Permission to put in a curb gas pump in the north part of town was asked and denied by the council by a vote of three to two.

And yet most drivers will have a feeling that perhaps they will continue to be able to find gas supplies somewhere in this town. There is an impression that in this line we are oversupplied.

It may occur to some one that to deny permission to install another pump may reduce competition and thereby cause us to have to pay more for the joy-ride juice

There isn't anything in this fear Ordinarily an increase in number of competitors has had a tendency to reduce the price of the article dealt in, but this no longer holds good. As they have added to the number of gas stations in this town the price has advanced, surely and regularly.

And we find this same thing in other fields. We are told that in this country we have 100 coal miners where only 60 are needed also that there is a like oversupply in the number of mines But all this has been accompanied by a steady and stiff advance in the price of coal, and some are arguing that this should be the case.

It appears the old rules no longer work. They were all right and could be depended on up to the point where the statesmen got to "intervening," but since that time everything is off

A MATTER OF COURAGE.

Mr. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, and said by some to be a chip off the old block, says that "we are in the midst of troublesome times, and there are more ahead. There are doctrines abroad in the land which, if not controverted and overcome, may lead to the fall of this great country, as countries of the past have fallen"

He was speaking to the national convention of Elks, a body not disposed to excitement or undue alarm. He seems to have had in mind the recent performances at Herrin in this state, and when he got on that topic he just spread out a little, let himself go some

How are we to controvert and overcome the dangerous and menacing "doctrines?" It will be admitted these doctrines are being preached by many, and yet there is mighty little intellectual appeal in them. As a rule they depend for seeming popularity on the fact that they are thought to be a short cut to the possession of goods that belong to others. Most of the men who do this kind of preaching would protest against its application to themselves.

There is little if any intellectual strength or appeal in that style of "doctrine." If people who don't believe in all that line of rot will only make a stand and declare themselves, see to it that the preaching is not made immediately profitable to its spouters, these doctrines will begin to languish.

The situation is one calling for the exercise of courage rather than further excursions into polemics.

LOOK AT THE HORRID TURK.

Let us stop a short while and make note of the way of the Turk when he turns his hand to the task of "balancing the budget." He blazes out in a way of his own, much like the private citizen must do when bringing expenses within income. It is heretofore unheard of that a government should employ like tactics, but the Turk is trying it out.

The Turk discharges 10,000 employes outright; others are given leave of absence for two years, and all others are put on half pay. It looks as if the Turk means business He is taking the situation seriously; he is liable to accomplish something.

We believe the Turk is the only fellow in the world who goes at the problem in this sensible fashion. It is practically unheard of in the circles of statesmen to keep within revenues by employing only the number of people there is money to pay This course is considered reprehensively old-fashioned, primitive in fact, something that belongs away back yonder in the dawn of civilization

We wish the Turk might make a success of his move; it might encourage others to try to do something by common-sense methods instead of relying on hazy miracles.

HUNGRY PROFESSORS.

We are told that in Germany professors and other men connected with the schools are pretty generally lined up against the republic, that they have a sneaking yearning for the return of monarchy The professors should make a better showing than this.

However, possibly their case can be appreciated. From all accounts they are not getting enough to eat, and not half enough to wear if one is to maintain some dignity. Their pay simply does not furnish a living, doesn't begin to

When a man is sadly underfed and without clothing to keep him comfortable, it need not be expected he will display great wisdom in his patriotism. His case is always calling for some kind of change, any thing so it is a change.

We have been puzzled to understand why most of these professors stick to teaching. Many of them must be able to turn a hand to some other work, and anything else pays better. Some one who has their ear should suggest this to them. It is true they don't enjoy great reputation in the world since 1914, and yet one doesn't wish them to starve.

PUT THE ROAD IN PARKS.

The city council informed the committee that it isn't practical just at this time to extend the paving on North Water street to meet the hard road the state is to build. The reasons given are substantial, good enough in fact to have caused the committee to fall back in good order. It is only necessary to add that A. M. Kenney was in command of the retreating forces.

Mayor Borchers, probably speaking for the council, promises to keep the unpaved portion of North Water street in fine shape; tourists coming off the cement road will have no complaint to make.

We trust this promise may be kept in letter and spirit. But this is something that is in "my department," so we are not sure the council as a whole will be permitted to have much to say about it.

Until such time as it can be paved, let us add that part of North Water street to the park department.

JUST ANOTHER CHAPTER.

Representatives from other countries gathered at The Hague this week have decided it is hardly worth while to try to come to an understanding with soviets who hail from Russia. It is just another demonstration that these radical brethren are impossible.

Probably it is all right to have this additional demonstration; it will serve to carry the big message to more people. This time those at The Hague are experts, not "politicians." Lloyd George could make no headway with those Russians, and some folks said it was because he is in politics.

Well, the experts on the job this week are not in politics, are not even beginners in this game; and still they are unable to make anything out of the Russians

If there is anybody else who would like to try this thing a whirl, this is a good time for him to speak up.

IN THE SMOKING CAR.

In a head-on collision near Kansas City several were killed and many more seriously crippled We read that most of the victims were in the smoking car. It is a line that newspaper readers have happened onto many times

Some of us are almost moved to ask if there isn't something that can be done to make the smoking car safer. They have done pretty well with other cars in the train, are showing improvement in these right along. But they seem to be halted when they come to the smoker, and we do wish this could be changed.

It is not that any of us desire to cripple folks who ride in other cars of the train. The thought is that as something has been done for their safety, it should be extended to the smoking car, can be in fact.

TELLS US SOMETHING.

Acting Governor Sterling has told us something, added a little to the enlightenment of many of us. He mentions to sheriffs in McLean and DeWitt counties that the coming of state troops doesn't mean local authorities are to look on themselves as freed of all responsibility.

As Mr Sterling points out, the troops are on hand principally to give home authorities a chance to pull themselves together and then take over the work that really was theirs from the start. Troops are on hand to give these authorities a chance to get second wind.

In a way it is new preaching, but it does seem that Mr. Sterling has the thing about right.

You will observe that the chicken fry is an institution that has no difficulty in holding on and adding to its ancient popularity.

We are getting it down fine. The County bridge is to be closed today, but this time for only a few hours, not days and weeks.

How is the chautauqua crop for 1922 paying? It is due to make a better showung or give up another breath or two of the ghost.

But we didn't expect that President Harding would be able to write a proclamation that suits Mr. Gompers.

Danville lets Joe McGinnity go and keeps the team, which strikes us that Danville has its money on the wrong hoss

When one starts in to dig oil wells he can make up his mind there isn't any stopping this side of the grave.

For days now Chicago has failed to furnish as much disturbance as several of the Podunk towns.

And are they going to call it Woodbine park or Camp Seymour? The odds seem to be on Camp.

Many times we have wondered if Dr. T. C. Buxton might not make a rather nifty gardener.

We are getting ourselves in the frame of mind to enthuse over a rhapsody on roasting ears.

Just Folks

LITTLE FELLOW.

Just a little fellow, mischievous of eye,
Doesn't know and doesn't care that shoes are hard to buy;
Laughing, romping, all the time, heedless as can be,
Fancying that he can get all he wants from me.

Just a little fellow, somewhat fond of dirt,
Seems we cannot teach him to be careful of his shirt;
Clothes are made to play in, and when he wears them out
He wonders when we grumble what the fuss is all about.

Just a little fellow. All he knows is having fun,
Care and strife and trial haven't come to cloud the sun;
His legs are never weary, and the times he hears us sigh
And he sees that we are troubled, it is plain he wonders why.

Just a little fellow with his harum-scarum ways,
Mischievous and roguish and his eyes with mirth ablaze,
But what are shoes and stockings and the things I must provide—
It's worth it all to have him romping daily at my side.

Ten Years Ago Today In Decatur

JULY 14, 1912.

The Review printed an article on former Decaturites who had become famous in the world. The list included Leonard Crunelle and Miss Frances Grimes, sculptors; Jean Mannheim and Roy Brown, painters; Senator Wesley Jones of Oregon; Trumbull White, newspaper man and magazine editor and Rev. John Lewis Clark.

Friends and relatives gathered to help Abram Greenfield celebrate his ninetieth birthday at his home one mile south of Hervey.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

A deluge of new oats was pouring into market.

News of the wedding of Miss Maude Downing and John L. Patin was received in Decatur. The wedding took place in New Orleans.

R. E Pratt was awarded second prize at the fine horse show in Chicago for the best four-in-hand team driven by the owner.

ABOUT TOWN

SEVERAL old adages having to do with the influence of children on their elders find their substantiation in an interesting little incident that happened over in the Standard Life building a few days ago. A little gentleman of tender years, five to be exact, accompanied his mother from a neighboring town to Decatur. The mother has been laying the foundation of the man-character that is to be developed in her son, and one of the principles she has emphasized is courtesy to ladies by removing his hat in their presence. She had mentioned this matter casually as pertaining to a passenger elevator.

Now to the story: The little man and his mother entered an elevator in the Standard Life building, to ride to the fourth floor. They found two women and four men. The men were wearing their hats. Without taking time to observe this, however, the lad promptly removed his cap. The man standing next to him, a well known physician of the city, flushed scarlet and doffed his hat. Man No. 2 followed suit, and the third, a youth of about twenty-one years, did likewise. The fourth took notice of what was transpiring, but without removing his hat, drawled:

"Does a feller have to take off his hat in here?"

The younger man replied: "Well—er—not exactly—but—"

Thereupon the professional man, still blushing, spoke up and said:

"I guess you don't have to, but I was just following the example of this young man," and he patted the little lad on the head.

By that time the fourth floor was reached and mother and son walked out of the elevator, the little fellow blissfully ignorant of the lesson in politeness he had taught the elderly men, and the mother somewhat embarrassed, but proud that her boy had measured up.

A STRANGER entered a down town store Tuesday and said something to the floor manager:

"I'm sorry, sir, said the floor man," but we can't sell you any ammunition. We are not selling any ammunition now except upon an order from the sheriff or chief of police."

"The stranger looked puzzled and annoyed and after hesitating for a moment he said:

"I guess I'll have to talk to you."

"Talk will not do any good," said the floor man. "The thing for you to do is to step around to the proper officer and get a piece of paper, that is unless you are a peace officer."

"Is this worth anything?" said the stranger, taking a metal shield from his pocket.

"It is perfectly good," said the floor manager and the stranger was conducted to the ammunition department

SPECIFICATIONS TOO RIGID; DELAY WORK

Lumber For New Floor at P. O. Not Yet Here.

So rigid are the specifications of the U. S Treasury department in regard to any changes, improvements or building work of any treasury department building that it sometimes proves difficult to get work done.

Some time ago, this department authorized expenditures for putting in a new floor in the Decatur postoffice but the specifications on lumber were so rigid that so far it has been impossible to get the lumber here. The floor was to have been in by this time.

CONCRETE WORK.

Only two contractors bid on the new concrete work to be put down in front of the post office building, so as to make the sidewalk and steps extend out to the curb for the full length of the postoffice grounds. The lower bid was that of F J Walters of Decatur, who was awarded the contract at $870.

American Ships Will Soon Be "Bone Dry"

Even Wets Prefer Move—Congress Certain To End Sale of Liquor on Sea.

By Mark Sullivan.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—The hearings which Attorney General Daugherty's office is holding on whether the law does or does not, and ought or ought not permit the sale of liquor on American ships may develop any kind of turn.

Both the "wets" and the "drys," each seeking their own advantage, may try to mass the testimony each way. But regardless of all that there need not be much doubt that ultimately, through one means or another, the American ships are going to be made "dry."

IS CERTAIN MOVE.

The opinion to that effect both throughout the country and in Congress is overwhelming. The "drys" want it done because they believe in it.

The "wets" although they may seem to try to uphold the "wet" end of the legal argument, really want the ships made "dry" because that is a part of their general campaign to make prohibition odious.

MAY RULE IN FAVOR.

At the conclusion of the present hearings the attorney general's office may decide either that the law as it stands permits the sale of liquor or that it does not. If the decision is that the law as it stands prohibits the sale of liquor on American ships that will end the matter, and the ships will go "dry" immediately.

If the decision is that the law as it stands permits the sale, that will not affect the ultimate outcome. In that event Congress either by immediate action or by an amendment to the shipping bill will make the ships "dry."

EXPECTED QUICK ACTION

A good many persons thought the president would issue an order making the ships "dry" as soon as he learned that the contrary was the practice. Others believe he may issue such an order after the attorney general's office has interpreted the law. In the back of that, it will be done by Congress.

The real outcome is not a matter of technical law, but of public opinion. The feeling is that this practice justifies the worst that is said of Uncle Sam by foreign critics, that Uncle Sam is a hypocrite, who is willing to enforce prohibition against the individual, but is not willing to practice it himself when money is to be made out of it.

"WAS UNFORTUNATE."

All the circumstances of the making public of the fact that liquor is being sold on the shipping board's vessels combined to make the incident as unfortunate as possible.

The fact that the disclosure related to a ship named after George Washington, who never told a lie, the fact that one of the items, on the ship's wine list, as reproduced in Congress, was in "Old American Rye Moonshine," the irony of the fact that the disclosure was made by a brewer, who was in a position to call Uncle Sam "The Biggest Bootlegger in the World" the fact that the ordinary layman ignores all legal technicalities involved and says that if the law against liquor does not run on American ships he can't see how the law against murder runs there, or any other law whatever—all these things combined to give rise to the maximum quantity of the most adverse comment on the incident.

MUST BE ACCEPTED.

As a result American ships are certain to be "dry," and whatever effect this may have on the passage of the subsidy bill, or on the possibility of having the precise kind of merchant-marine that the shipping board is aiming at must be accepted.

FEDERAL BONUS?

VOTE NOW

In the huge poll of 10,000,000 voters—men and women—from every State in the Union, which The Literary Digest is taking upon the burning questions of Prohibition and a Soldiers' and Sailors' Bonus, marked ballots are being received by the "Digest" by the thousands and tens of thousands daily. Men and women voters in all ranks of life, and in every profession, business, and occupation, have received, by mail, secret ballots upon which they are indicating their wishes for or against Prohibition and a Federal Bonus. This "Digest" poll gives the first opportunity ever extended to the citizens of the United States to take part in a nation-wide vote on Prohibition and the Bonus. Whether you are "moist" or "wet," or "dry"; whether you are for or against a bonus to soldiers and sailors in the late war, if you have received one of the "Digest" ballots through the mail by all means mark and return it immediately so that your vote may be registered in this graphic presentation of public opinion upon these two great issues. There is no condition or obligation for voting, you do not have to sign your name to the ballot.

The poll is wholly non-partizan and is in harmony with the "Digest's" policy of presenting all angles of public opinion upon all important questions. The returns from the votes will speak for themselves. Each week during the coming months, these returns will be summarized and printed in the "Digest," State by State. With the approach of the Fall congressional elections this poll will be eagerly watched by political candidates and by the public generally, as it will record in the most accurate manner the voice of American public opinion.

"SEEING RED"

BY R. H. DISHOP.

A sudden fit of anger, in which one allows all self-control to slip the leash, is liable to be "unhealthy" in more ways than one.

Aside from the oft-proved fact many crimes are committed during such outbursts, they frequently are followed by illness, a depressed feeling or a profound fit of "blues."

If you have "a temper," you alone can remedy the ailment, for that is what is amounts to.

You can train yourself not to let anger get control. When you are angered, a strong mental effort should be made to regain your composure. This is often aided by the very simple means of counting, or doing a certain number of exercises. Doing something very slowly or forcing yourself to think of something else often helps to subdue the fit of "seeing red."

Coaches and trainers will tell you that it is quite possible to learn self-control.

In football and similar sports it is essential. Boxers, too, will testify that they cannot do their best when angry.

A good golfer may play a poor game simply because he becomes enraged, either at a mistake of his own, or because of some movement or exclamation on the part of a bystander. Experienced golfers train themselves to forget the missed stroke, to think only of the strokes of the present.

So the average individual, just like the football player or boxer or golfer, can conquer sudden fits of anger, and save immeasurably in health by so doing.

SUMMER SCHOOL IS MOST SUCCESSFUL

Students Work Diligently —202 Enrolled.

The summer school at the Decatur high school is the most successful that he has ever been connected with, says Asa Sprunger, the principal The attendance is the largest that the school has ever had and the work that the students are doing is the best. There are 202 students enrolled, just forty-two more than last year. They are an earnest, eager body of students and they are working just like students in a regular high school term.

MAY ADD OTHER WORK.

The pupils are required to do one hour's study in the school building every day. Most of them voluntarily add another hour to this and thus clean up their day's work, and have the afternoon free to themselves. The busiest place in the school is the library which is filled with students who are diligently working Superintendent Richeson is so much pleased with the school this year that he is likely to add intermediate grade work to the regular summer school course. Indeed, there is a demand for eighth and ninth grade work and a good deal of it is being done by private tutors in the city.

CELEBRATE THEIR 30TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Potrafka are Given Surprise.

Celebrating their thirty years of wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Potrafka, 1464 East Marietta street, were pleasantly surprised by forty friends and relatives Thursday evening

The couple were married in 823 North Charles street thirty years ago They have two children, Mrs J. W. White and Henry R. Potrafka

Mrs. Potrafka has seven brothers, six of whom live in Decatur and who were present at the celebration They were Albert, Ed, William, Amos, John and August Bork. Owing to sickness in the family, the celebration was smaller than it would have been otherwise.

Mr. Potrafka received a bath robe as a gift and Mrs Potrafka received a beautiful umbrella A large bouquet of pink roses were presented them also

"JIMMY THE SAFEBLOWER" RIPS OFF HIS MASK AND IS REVEALED AS MASTER SLEUTH

New York—Three manacled men, identified as the master crooks who robbed a mail truck of $2,000,000 in cash and securities last October, whispered to the young man who walked with them on their way to jail.

"Pity we didn't croak you when we had a chance!" said the first.

"As we planned to do!" added the second

And said the third, bitterly: "We'd have given you the whole $500,000 rather than be pinched!"

So ended the game in which the young man, Gordon T. McCarthy, played a lone and desperate hand.

Sitting with him in the game were Death and Graft, the one to be feared, the other avoided. And he won, escaping both. He started after a gang of express thieves, and wound up by making a record-breaking capture of mail robbers.

"HUMAN BLOODHOUND."

Winning, he gets the fame of a second Sherlock Holmes—as the "human bloodhound" who for seven months followed tiny clews and for a time lived and ate and drank and reveled with his quarry in the disguise of a crook

He turned down a chance for a half million dollar bribe—but he stands to win $55,000 or more in rewards.

Of this the government pays $5000 each for the capture of Gerald Chapman, Charles Loerber and George Anderson, alias Bryce, alias "the Count." And insurance companies pay 10 per cent for the $500,000 of the $2,000,000 loot already recovered.

SPURNS BRIBES.

McCarthy, special agent of the American Railway Express Company, smiled at the threat of death and the bribe offer. He said

"You fellows might have known you may rob a bank and go free, you may even rob the government and get away with it—but when you rob the express company we'd never let up on you during your lifetime!"

That is the creed of McCarthy super-detective.

SCOTLAND YARD TRAINING

Only 30 years old, with curly hair, a tight mouth—and nerve—McCarthy learned the tricks of the trade with Scotland Yard detectives in London where he went after having served with the American army in France. Later he was assigned to the railway express secret service in Buffalo.

"I learned not to talk clews but to follow them and never to fit evidence into clews," he said.

His mentor was Robert E. M Cowie, vice president of the American Railway Express Company, 40 years in charge of the secret service.

"I kept in touch with Mr. Cowie constantly while I was running down this gang," said McCarthy.

POSES AS THIEF.

"I talked the lingo of thieves and was 'Jimmy the Safeblower' from the West. I'd sneak away in taxicabs and report to Mr. Cowie, but they didn't suspect until the last minute.

"It cost thousands to live with those fellows and gain their confidence. Automobiles, clothes, cabaret parties and liquor cost plenty. We'd have parties at roadhouses and cabarets and throw $10 bills to the dancing girls. Drinks at $1.25 each were trifles"

A single travelers' check cashed in a New York department store was the first clew But McCarthy traveled thousands of miles, beginning last Christmas, before he landed his men

Then, to his surprise, he found they not only had the Niagara Falls loot but that of the $2,000,000 New York mail holdup as well!

TO MOVE OR NOT TO MOVE, QUESTION

City Council Divided Over House Moving Proposition.

Whether or not the city council is bound to accept the decision of the majority of the special committee, to which the decision as to whether a house is worth moving or whether it can accept a minority report and permit a house to be moved which the majority of the committee has refused was referred to the corporation counsel Thursday morning by the city council after the permission to move the house at 241 West Wood street had again been called up for decision.

THREE TO TWO.

The ordinance requires that whether a house is worth fifty per cent of the value of a new house shall be decided by a committee consisting of the mayor, the commissioner of health and safety and the chief of police The house in question was not accepted by two members of the committee but was accepted by Commissioner J. F. Mattes, the third commissioner, as worth moving. The council stood three to two for accepting the minority report when the question arose as to whether or not the council is bound by the majority report.

Corporation Counsel Monroe asked for time to look into the legal question.

MANY BABIES AT WELFARE CLINIC

Infants Show Surprising Increase in Weight.

Lately about sixty babies have been brought to the baby clinic at the First Methodist church every Thursday. Between eight and ten new babies have been added to the enrollment each week.

Most of the work is done in the regulation of feeding and advice about the care of the children. Several of the babies have shown surprising increase in weight after the mother has been advised about the food of the child.

The children are weighed and a record of the weight and changes in the weight is kept. A doctor gives advice about the care of the children.

Illinois Central Railroad Company

Chicago, Illinois, July 10, 1922.

TO ALL ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM SHOPMEN:

On June 14th I addressed a communication to you in which I appealed to you to cast your vote against the proposed strike. Since that time the strike has been called by your leaders, and some of you have left your positions, while others have remained steadfast. I feel that the time has arrived when I should make clear to those of you who have left your position, as well as those of you who have remained, the position of the Illinois Central System with reference to this entire matter.

In my letter to you of June 14th I enumerated the three things which your leaders proposed to have you strike against: namely, (1) contracting of shop plants to outsiders, (2) the order of the United States Railroad Labor Board relating to rules and working conditions, and (3) the order of the United States Railroad Labor Board establishing rates of pay effective July 1.

The question of contracting shops to outsiders is not a part of the controversy so far as you and the management of the Illinois Central System are concerned, because this railway system has not contracted any of its shops to outsiders. The questions involved in the matter of rules and working conditions and the order establishing rates of pay effective July 1 are the only ones at issue. They are not questions between you and the Illinois Central System management. They were decided by the United States Railroad Labor Board and those of you who are out on strike are striking against lawful decisions of a branch of the United States Government.

It goes without saying that the public welfare cannot permit the revocation of a decision of a governmental agency under a threat of the use of force . No patriotic citizen would expect such a thing to be done, or would have it done. We believe that we have the best government in the world, but you will all agree with me that it would not long so remain if its institutions could be over-ridden and set aside in the manner sought by those who are contending against the lawful decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The management of the Illinois Central System believes that those of you who are out on strike have been misled. It bears no feeling of hostility toward those who left its service. To those who have remained loyal it acknowledges a debt of gratitude. It feels that it has a valuable asset in its old employes, and it is eager to hold them together. It believes that, if those of you who are out will calmly analyze the issues upon which you are striking, your better judgment will assert itself and you will return to your positions. I sincerely invite you to return. Moreover, I earnestly advise you to pursue that course.

Those who report for duty not later than 11:59 p. m. Monday, July 17, 1922, may do so with the resumption of full seniority and pension rights and will be treated as if their services had been continuous. Those returning after that time, if accepted, will rank as new employes.

I trust that those of you who are out will consider this matter seriously and that your action, whatever it may be, will turn out to be for your own best interests, as well as the best interests of your families and those dependent upon you for a living.

I ask those of you who are striking to bear in mind that you accepted the decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board when they were favorable to you, and that the Illinois Central System accepted those decisions which were unfavorable to it. Let me also again remind you that since December, 1917, you have received three general increases in wages and that your hourly rates of wages in effect at present, as fixed by the United States Railroad Labor Board, are from 40 to 113 per cent higher than in 1917, as follows:

	July, 1922 Hourly Rates	1917 Hourly Rates	Increases Over 1917
Machinists, boilermakers and blacksmiths	70c	50c	40%
Helpers, various classes	47c	29½ to 32½c	45 to 59%
Coach carpenters	70c	40c	75%
Freight car carpenters	63c	35½c	77%
Car repairmen	63c	29½c	113%

Upon reflection, I believe that you will be broad-minded enough to accept the recent decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board which you consider unfavorable. A long-drawn-out contest would mean losses and suffering, not only for you and your families, but also for the public. We should all recognize that the public interest always rises above the interests of the railroad or of its employes.

None of us is fortunate enough to have issues affecting his life always decided in his favor. The principle of "rule or ruin" invariably has led to disaster. It can have no other ending. The wisdom of the principles of "give and take" and "live and let live" have been fully demonstrated. Those are the principles upon which we desire to conduct this railway system for the benefit of the public, the employes and the owners.

The management of the Illinois Central System is under obligations to serve the public with uninterrupted transportation and under any conditions which may arise it must faithfully discharge that obligation.

I ask that you accept this letter in that same friendly spirit in which I address you, free from any feeling of hostility or censure for anything that has been said or done in regard to this unhappy affair.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President.

RENEWALS AT LOWEST MARK

Investment and the Money Market Hold Interest on Exchange.

BY STUART P WEST

Wall Street New York July 14—The important developments in today's situation lay rather in the investment and money markets than in the speculative stock market Renewal rates of standing loans were reduced to 3 per cent and transaction in call money were reported outside the stock exchange at 2½ per cent the lowest figure of the year and below anything seen in Wall street since the spring of 1918

Time money and commercial paper were nominally unchanged but there was increasing unwillingness of borrowers for both these markets to meet the terms asked by lenders Call loans on bankers acceptances meanwhile were fixed at 2¾ per cent a new low for the season

FOLLOWS RATE CUT

The downward tendency in money was plainly a consequence of Thursday's reduction in the Bank of England rate and of the feeling that this will lead to another cut in federal reserve discount here The same anticipation was back of the continued rise in investment prices which was the most interesting event of the day

All classes of Liberty bonds made new high records Railway bonds of the first rank were selling well up to their best for 1922 There was decidedly more of an inquiry for railway and industrial preferred stocks and other shares of a strictly investment character

OILS DISTURB

For the first hour the stock market was unsettled by another outbreak of selling of the oil shares Partly this was the result of the federal trade commission's recommendation to congress that mutual stock ownership be prohibited in the Standard Oil subsidiaries and other interests represented former components of industrial combinations that have dissolved under the anti trust law Partly it was in preparation for a cut in crude oil prices

While the selling movement was going in the oils other stocks looked heavy and some of them were weak But as soon as the oils stopped going down the general market picked up quickly

GAS STOCKS LEAD

Public utility issues especially the stocks of gas companies were the leaders Their rise foreshadowed higher dividends either in the near future or before the end of the year as with some of the other companies

In other industrials where poor are supposed to be working prices were pushed forward rapidly as soon as the general market gave the chance Studebaker American Can and Industrial Alcohol were among this class of stocks to have the quickest recoil Railway stocks were comparatively neglected no doubt because of the labor uncertainties Coppers and related shares were steady but the steels attracted less than the usual intrest

MEX PETE DROPS 4 1-4 POINTS MORE

New York July 14—Mexican Petroleum suffered an extreme loss of 4¼ points during the morning Kindred shares as well as several of the domestic oils were 1 to 2 points lower

Selling embraced the independent steels high grade equipment Studebaker American Can American Zinc preferred Davidson Chemical and Pacific Mail at declines of 1 to 2 points, with a 2½ point loss for Western Union Aside from the heaviness of St Paul preferred Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred and Western Pacific, rails were relatively steady Consolidated Gas Peoples Gas United Fruit and Standard Oils of California were among the few comparatively strong stocks Call money opened and renewed into next week at 3 percent

The closing was firm

WHEAT SEES WEAK CLOSE

Threshing Prospects Exert Bullish Influence on Prices.

Chicago July 14—Predictions that damage from black rust were likely to be small led to downturns in the price of wheat today during the early transactions Reports indicated that the weather was unfavorable for rust development Hedging sales were a feature The opening which varied from unchanged figures to ⅝c lower with September 114¾ to 115¼ and December $116⅞ to 117 was followed by material declines all around

Prospects that threshing will be hastened by higher temperatures was a bearish influence later The close was weak 1 to 1¾ net lower with September 113¾ to 113¾ and December 116⅛ to 116¼

CORN OATS FIRM

Corn and oats were relatively firm Country offerings of corn were small and support in demand After opening unchanged to ¼@⅜c higher September 64@64⅛ to the corn market held near to the initial range Subsequently export buying brought about some uptums in prices The close was unsettled at a shade off to an advance with September 64⅞ to 64⅞@65

Oats started unchanged to ⅛c off September ¾ to ⅞ and later showed a little more

RETAIL TRADE OF GOOD SIZE

Wholesalers Also Encouraged Over Volume of Season's Trade.

Detroit July 14—Several days of muggy weather this week temporarily emptied department stores and other retail establishments but merchants are practically sold out of summer goods and there are fewer marked down sales going on than for many years past Our business for the first half of 1922 was very satisfactory was the uniform answer returned today by heads of mercantile houses in response to questions about their progress

Wholesale dealers in clothing hats caps shoes gloves and haberdashery declare country customers are making numerous inquiries involving reorders of all merchandise because of the promising outlook in the farming sections Although the fruit crops were injured in some sections by rains they still give promise of record proportions except in production of apples As fruit is the principal crop of 18 counties in the southern peninsula the effect of this condition can readily be seen Prices are steady and the crops are moving fast

COTTON OPTIMISTIC

Atlanta Ga July 14—Notification from Washington that application for a loan of $5 000 000 by the Georgia Cotton Growers association to be used in helping finance the cotton crop had been approved and the increase of about $5 a bale in recent cotton prices has had a heartening effect throughout this entire section particularly in the rural districts

The failure of cantaloupes and watermelons to bring better prices as the season advances has cut down the revenue accruing to the farming districts materially but peaches still are proving profitable and the market shows no signs of being flooded

The effect of the coal strike and the walkout of railroad shopmen has been more of a local than an actual nature thus far in this district but business men who have been watching the situation closely express fear that a general tie up is inevitable unless these controversies are settled soon There has been no precipitable slackening of industry as yet

PRICE BUSINESS SLUMP

St Louis July 14—Although wholesale and retail trade remains active signs of the summer slump have been apparent this week and it is expected business will be lighter for four or five weeks to come This dullness is usual in mid summer and as trade has been better than normal for over a month merchants have passed the worry stage It is noticeable that there is more of what may be called normal buying due to increased employment and confirmed confidence Volume of business is being maintained right now by bargain sales

Manufacturing which has been improving steadily is standing still for the moment due to hesitation caused by the shopmen's strike and the increased fuel costs due to the coal situation There is a general feeling that this transportation centers that the railway strike may be settled at any time and if it is not conditions will not be long serious

OPPOSE EXHIBITION

Philadelphia July 14—This city is in uncertainty as to the sesquicentennial exhibition Some large employers are said to oppose to undertaking because it would upset their calculations as to labor the supply of which would be far below demand This they feel would mean an increase in wages and would make it precarious to bid for contracts because of the indefinite cost of production

A broader reason for postponing and perhaps abandoning the exposition is the likelihood that by 1926 the affairs of the world will still be so unsettled that it will be difficult to procure foreign exhibits Much of the local business boom this year has been based upon expectations of beneficial effects from the proposed exposition and if it is abandoned a reaction is expected here in real estate construction and business generally

EMPLOYMENT INCREASES

Hartford Conn July 14—A survey of industrial conditions here show that 1 700 more persons are employed in the manufacturing plants in this country than in May The total employed is now approaching 4 700 workers

BUILD MORE SHIPS

Boston July 14—The United Fruit company has let contracts for the construction of three large passenger and cargo steamers which will ply between the ports and Boston The boats will be completed in about a year and will be built by Cammell Laird and company Ltd of Birkenhead England

COMMODITY NEWS.

DRY GOODS.

Boston July 14—Large mill agents and converters here are preparing to comb the country east of the Mississippi as never before in competition with the local jobbers in that territory This is the result of the direct to retailer movement on the part of the mills

HATS.

Seattle July 14—A practical clean up of mens straw hats is a feature of the retail trade here There will be no carry over and no bargain sale in the late summer The spring opening trade was slow but two solid months without rain brought buying to record proportions exceeding any previous figures in the last five years

CLOTHING

New Orleans July 14—Factories making lightweight summer suitings have had the largest business in their history this year Some of them did nearly twice as much business as last year Several factories are preparing to enlarge their plants

WOOL

Philadelphia July 14—The wool market has quieted down since the buying in the west has eased off Stocks are in strong hands and prices are likely to remain steady

New York July 14—The high price of raw wool has brought a demand for wash silk from shoddy manufacturers who require this product to help strengthen the weak short fiber wool

Resident Manager Longan of the Mexican Seaboard Oil company sent word today from Tampico that the salt water situation in the Toteco field is not as grave as pictured and that the company could take 9 000 barrels daily from its wells

Union Stock Yards, Chicago July 14—Choice cattle were in good demand during the present week and values went to the year's high point when heavy fed steers sold at $10 60 while long yearlings also made a new high mark with $10 00 In the hog pens large numbers were held from day to day

PRICE OF WHEAT DROPS TO 98 CTS.

Corn and Oats Unchanged —Farmers too Busy to Sell Poultry.

Wheat prices declined Friday on the good crop situation and perhaps in sympathy with the general decline in stocks resulting from the feeling of pessimism about the rail and coal situation Station buyers dropped their offers to ninety-eight cents a bushel but allowed quotations on corn and oats to remain unchanged

Receipts are lighter than they were in the spring when the roads were bad said a poultry shipper Friday The farmers are not bringing in a thing and even the hucksters say that they cannot get the busy farmer to stop long enough to sell the poultry when they go right to the house

Prices are firm but with no change

Hogs also were unchanged locally although somewhat lower in the terminal markets

DEPUTIES PUT ON AT CLINTON

Possibility That the Troops Will Leave Saturday.

Clinton July 14—Forty special deputies were sworn in by civil authorities Friday morning to serve as guards of Illinois Central property and to preserve peace and order in the event of the removal of the three companies of troops now on strike duty here

TROOPS MAY LEAVE

It now appears that the troops may be withdrawn Saturday or Sunday and in view of this probability Sheriff John W Persons State's Attorney W F Smith and Major Frank Rundle have been busy soliciting the service of private citizens to take their places and the forty already inducted as guards will be augmented by numbers of others These men have been recruited largely from the ranks of clerks, store owners and retired farmers

MORE BACK TO WORK

PAY CHECKS READY

Superintendent Shaw has issued a notice to the striking shopmen that he has arranged with the Dewitt County National Bank of Clinton to have a company paymaster at the bank at 9 o clock Saturday forenoon, with pay checks covering the second period of June together with time checks for service rendered in July

He further stated that all of those having company property, including locker keys in their possession would please return it to the paymaster upon receipt of check

CHANGES IN WORKERS

M. of W. Men Vote to Stay on Strike.

"We have about enough coal on hand in Decatur right now to run this division about eight or nine days" said Superintendent J E Stumpf of the Decatur division of the Wabash Friday, "but other divisions, practically out of coal, are also being supplied from Decatur and for that reason you can see the situation here in regard to trains is getting bad I would not be surprised to see another big reduction in the number of trains any minute We are getting in a few scattered shipments of coal but not anywhere near enough to keep up with running all the trains

"The report of business done on the Decatur division Thursday shows that we handled 2 093 loads and 662 empties, moved forty-eight freight trains with an average of fifty-two cars to the train"

PARCEL POST

The taking off of the local passenger trains between Decatur and Danville did not curtail the handling of first class mail in and out of those towns but it did cut off the parcel post business, which cannot be thrown off of moving trains or handled on mail cranes The result is that truckloads of parcel post mail for towns between here and Danville are accumulating in Decatur An effort was made to have the mail transfer clerks reserve space to handle this mail in local freight trains but the clerks would not take the responsibility and Seth Howard chief clerk in the railway mail service was here from Peoria Thursday night to confer on the matter

CRAFTSMEN MEETING

"We are having the regular meetings" said A P Mercer, chairman of the roundhouse branch of the federated crafts organization in Decatur Friday morning, "but we are not transacting any business of importance. We usually have some speaker from the outside speak to us and keep up the pep of the men Friday afternoon, Rev R E Henry is going to speak to us"

MORE MEN AT WORK

It was estimated that between twenty-five and thirty more men were put to work at the roundhouse Thursday night and Friday morning while craft committeemen report that at least seven quit Friday morning

It is difficult to keep a correct check on the number for workers are coming and going every day Perhaps a half-dozen of these are the only ones who came in to work right after the strike started

One machinist working on repairs on the cinder pit crane Friday morning caught his hand in the brake and it was badly mashed while one finger was cut deep He was taken to the hospital

M OF W MEN VOTE

Dan Griffin, general chairman of the Wabash maintenance of way union was in Decatur again Friday morning and attended a special meeting of the group of 150 laborers pit men, coal dock men and the like, that went on strike last week After a lengthy session these men voted again on whether to return to work or stay on strike and it was said the vote was unanimous to stay on strike

TEN MORE AFFECTED

The strike of stationery firemen and oilers scheduled to go into effect all over the country next Monday morning will catch about ten men in Decatur, it is said

STRIKE NOTES.

The restraining order issued in the federal court in Bloomington to the Wabash against picketing by the strikers is said to cover thirty-nine counties through which the road passes in Central and Southern Illinois from Vermilion on the east to Adams on the west and St Clair and Madison on the south.

The C I. and W. passenger department Thursday announced that it would not run its excursions between Decatur and Indianapolis next Sunday owing to the shortage of fuel and the fact that few people are riding during the strike, according to their announcement

The road foremen of engines on the C I. and W. have posted a bulletin to all engineers and firemen to keep strangers and other people away from their engines while stopping at stations or other points along the line.

Wheat Threshing.

That the wheat threshing is now on in full force is evident from the number of grain car orders coming in from elevators to the Decatur division offices of the Wabash. Orders Thursday were for 195 grain cars on the Decatur division Because of a steady movement of grain preceding the wheat movement, the division officials were not able to store more than a few hundred cars at the country town elevators and now all of these are gone

Brannon Home.

Ed Brannon, Wabash passenger engineer, has returned home from an automobile trip of several weeks into Indiana and through Southern Illinois but will not return to work until he gets rid of a bad infection on his lower lip, due to the bite of some kind of a bug He was visiting at a country home in Indiana when the big wind storm swept that state some days ago There was a heavy timber across the road from this home and Brannon says that the wind seemed to bend these trees almost to the ground and that it blew bugs and worms out of the timber in millions One bug struck him on the lip but he paid no attention to this until the lip started swelling He was forced to see a doctor Friday morning to have the place cared for.

Engineer Reen of the Wabash north end freight service is off for several trips and is visiting in Wisconsin while E J Wilkins of the east local is laying off on account of sickness

John Clements, formerly a Wabash switchman, but who is now employed as a switchman at the Staley plant, was hurried to the Decatur and Macon County hospital Friday morning to undergo an operation for appendicitis He suffered a sudden attack

HAD LONG RUN

(Bloomington Pantagraph)

The 250 came in yesterday morning with the Hummer, having made the run from Kansas City to Bloomington a distance of 361 miles without changing the fire This is believed to be a new record for the Alton and perhaps in the railway world Due to the strike and shortage of power the engine could not be given relief at either Slater or Roodhouse and consequently was run thru the first time that this was ever attempted There was a good fire in the engine when arriving here and in a pinch, the engine might have continued on to Chicago However, the engine ordered for No 42 was substituted here and the 509 used on No 42 The 803 one of the heavier type of freight engines was used on No 6 yesterday morning

Railroad Briefs.

Engineer Charles Whipple, who holds the greatest amount of seniority among engineers on the Wabash 9th and 13th districts and is therefore able to pick any job he wants on these two districts, has bumped into the Nos 17-10 run between Decatur and St Louis and his fireman, Davidson, who is also able to pick any firing job he wants, also took this run. They will go out on it Saturday

This bumps Bob Zink from the engineers side of the 17-10 run, but at present Bob is not worrying for he is on one of his frequent visits to Hannibal Davidson, however, bumps Fireman Youts The latter bumps O'Brien from Nos 15-18 and O Brien bumps Del Adams from 13-96 Whipple and Davidson gave up the Champaign branch local because one of the daily round trips was taken off of it.

These changes are also causing bumps among passenger conductors and brakemen Conductor Vasconcelos bumped Patrick from Nos 15 6 between Decatur and St. Louis and Patrick bumped Groves from 9-28 while Groves will go back to one of the local freight runs Brakeman Williams, who was on Nos 50-51 east bumped Cochrane from 9-28 and Cochrane bumped Chaille from 8-2

NOT TO CELEBRATE LABOR DAY HERE

Many to Go to Champaign-Urbana That Day.

The Decatur Trades and Labor Assembly has decided not to hold any big celebration here on Labor Day, the decision having been made at the regular meeting Thursday night While shortness of time for making big preparations was a factor, the principal reason is because it always puts an enormous amount of work on the shoulders of a few

GO OTHER PLACES

It is probable that many of the Decatur people will go to celebrations in other towns on that day The twin cities of Champaign and Urbana are planning a big day, and so far, that is the only celebration being planned close by The painters are going from Decatur to that event The painters ball team is also going over and will stage a ball game with some team from either Danville or Bloomington A purse of $100 is to be split 60-40 between the two teams.

ASK CRAFTS TO JOIN

Wooden Tank Car.

A wooden tank car in a train of oil tank cars attracted a good deal of attention to a train passing through Decatur Thursday afternoon The tank was made of staves which were hooped together with iron rods at frequent intervals. The petroleum that had soaked through the wooden staves plainly indicated the nature of the tank's contents.

DECATUR WOMEN TRAVEL LIGHT

Discussion As to Amount of Baggage Needed.

Decatur women do not agree with W. M Davis of Cincinnati in one remark in a speech before the American Transfer men's association to the effect that:

"The Civil war miss wore a dozen petticoats but when she went traveling all she took was a single carpet bag or trunk, while Miss 1922, who wears three pieces of clothing and a pair of shoes, needs 20 trunks and a half a dozen hat boxes"

61 YEARS EXPERIENCE

Mr. Davis based his statement on his sixty one years of experience in the transfer business. He has been solving the baggage problems of travelers from the time of the coach and omnibus of Civil war days to the present automobile and claims to have an expert knowledge of all passing whims

TO EUROPE

At least one Decatur woman has gone to Europe with only a suit case or two, and is not having any inconvenience because of lack of clothes

The first of these statements by Mr. Davis refers probably to the minimum amount of baggage carried while the second is the maximum figure

WIDER ACTIVITIES

One reason why present day women need more baggage is that they are more active and have a wider range of activities than the prim miss of 1862 whose only occupation while she was away visiting was knitting and embroidery. Probably her most strenuous exercise was riding in the carriage behind two stately horses. Now one must take costumes suitable for golf, tennis dancing, teas, swimming, shopping, motoring and many other activities.

SHE WORE 'EM ALL.

It is just a possible chance that my lady of the Civil war did not have to carry so many clothes because she wore most of them.

HANDLED BETTER NOW.

With the multiplicity of baggage, Mr Davis declared in his speech, have come improved methods in handling it so that neither the flapper nor her mother, experiences the slightest annoyance. While in the age of the hoop skirt and bustle, he added, it was necessary to identify trunks in person and check them as well. The modern girl may check her trunks through to the farthest part of the country without change

ASSESSMENT ROLLS ARE CONFIRMED

Objections to Resurfacing Jobs Are Overruled By County Court.

All objections to the resurfacing of West Decatur and West Macon streets with a number of cross streets were overruled by the county court Friday and Judge J H. McCoy issued decrees confirming the assessment rolls for those projects

The city compromised with some of the owners of property on Monroe street, owners who were hit very hard by the double burden of paving both the frontage on the cross streets and that on the main throughfares

The council will doubtless soon set the date for the receiving of bids on this work which the city officials have been anxious to get under way for some time.

Saturday Evening Posts Lost.

Has anyone seen anything of fifteen tons of Saturday Evening Posts wandering around? They have been lost somewhere. They are part of the freight shipment which comes to Decatur each week and are then reconsigned by mail. The lost Posts belonged to quite a number of small towns in Missouri near St. Louis. The Decatur men handling this business say they were shipped in a certain baggage car but they have never arrived at destination and mail officials here are trying to locate them.

Bill for Divorce.

Ida M. McMillin, through her attorneys, Henson & Helmick, filed papers for divorce from Robert L. McMillin Friday morning. They were married Jan. 24, 1900, and separated Sept. 11, 1921, The Plaintiff charges adultery against Mr. McMillin.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Licensed in Chicago.

A marriage license was issued Thursday in Chicago to Robert E. Glover and Miss Rose Hutchison both of Chicago. The bride was divorced in Decatur in February, 1916

DECATUR MAY LOSE MAGAZINE BUSINESS

Chicago Would Be Distributing Point.

TO PREVENT CHANGE

Local Service Given Highly Satisfactory.

A business amounting to more than $100,000 a year to the Decatur post office will be lost if the proposal of the United States Postal authorities at Washington, to make Chicago, instead of Decatur, the distributing point for the Curtis publications, McCall's Magazine, and the Pictorial Review, is carried through.

A OF C. AT WORK.

The Decatur Association of Commerce has made an effort to enlist every possible aid to prevent the change Congressman Allen Moore has sent his secretary, W. C Barnes, to Decatur to help keep this city as the distributing point. Mr. Barnes was in Chicago Friday to confer with the superintendent of the sixth division of the railway mail service

DO NOT WANT CHANGE

The service of the Decatur post office has been highly satisfactory to the publishers who do not want the change to be made A meeting of representatives of the publications with the postal authorities was to be held in Washington Thursday but what action was taken has not been learned

The railway companies also are anxious for Decatur to remain the point of distribution

800 000 LBS MONTHLY.

The Curtis publications, which include the Saturday Evening Post, The Ladies Home Journal and the Country Gentlemen, and the other magazines, McCall's and the pictorial Review are shipped in to Decatur by freight in car load lots and are sent out of the local post office as second closs mail matter About 800,000 pounds monthly are sent out from here by mail to points in Illinois Iowa, part of Missouri, and to Chicago and the Chicago districts

Aside from the business it brings to the local post office it also gives recognition of Decatur's merits as a distributing point and the change would be a severe loss

The Chicago postal authorities evidently feel that a small city has no right to such distinction and want the business brought to their own city

HALT ACTION.

The action making the transfer has been temporarily halted and every effort will be made to stay the proceeding permanently but any aid that can be given the Association of Commerce in its effort to prevent the transfer will be welcomed.

They left the "Y" about 3 30 in the afternoon and arrived at their destination about 5 30, tired out and ready for lunch They immediately pitched their tents and made ready for the meal.

SNIPE HUNT

After the meal someone suggested that they go on a snipe hunt and Joe Brust and George Pierce were the two elected to hold the game bag After the catch they both said they enjoyed the hunt very much. Luther Birk was so hungry after arriving at the camp that he ate all his meal at supper time and did not have any left for breakfast. Besides snipe hunting the hiers went swimming and some games were played.

DECATURITE IN SLEEPING CAR

A Decatur woman recently went to California taking a through sleeper for Los Angeles in Chicago. When her husband put her on board the train in Chicago he bought her two Sunday papers which he had not had time to glance at and which were tucked beside her handbag in the seat. In the car were a minister and his wife He was in clerical garb long coat buttoned to the chin, clerical collar but no tie and a low, round crowned, broad-brimmed hat.

The wife wore a dress of neat, plain Quakerish gray buttoned all the way down and with flaring skirt. She was small and meek and plainly in awe of the distinguished looking husband. The train had not got out of Chicago when he spied the two unopened newspapers and walking down the aisle to the Decatur woman's section he reached down to take them.

"Please don't take those papers," she said "I wish to use them myself"

"Oh" he said 'I only wanted to read them"

'I prefer to read them first myself," she said, and he walked back to his seat with a look of scorn on his face and he ignored her all the rest of the way to Los Angeles.

TRUE CHARACTER

After the train was well on its way an argument arose on the train between the clerical gent and a man who afterwards proved to be a Chicago decorator. A passenger stopped to listen, another one came and in a short time the two were surrounded by a cluster of interest people.

The decorator was a Biblical student, a Bible expert a scriptural crank

"He had the worst worn bible I ever saw," says the Decatur woman," and it was worn from constant use. He could flip it open at any desired passage in an instant He could prove any point that he wished to make by an apt quotation or reading the verses or line from the book.

In the argument he paralyzed and then pulverized the man in clerical clothes who did not know anything more about the Bible than he knew about the Koran This fact was quickly patent to the listeners And then it appeared that the man in the clerical clothes was not a minister at all but a real estate man who had donned the ministerial garb in order to get a ministerial rate to California Thereafter he was ignored by every person in the car and he took his revenge on the Bible expert by making faces at him behind his back

QUEER BUT INTERESTING

The Bible expert was a most interesting character, adds the Decatur woman, although he could not converse along any subject without reverting to the Bible He had been an actor, a star in a theatrical company, and he had a numberof photographs in evidence of this.

"I made up my mind that it was all wrong," he said, "and I quit it and took up decorating"

Further along on the journey he unpacked his musical instruments and played for the Pullman audience He played both the violin and the cornet and he was an expert on either He was out of practice, he said, which was doubtless true, but he was a real musician.

It was equally plain that the man was a real decorator He used to amuse the children on the train by tearing up newspapers and making things of them, the most wonderful and beautiful things. The fake minister further lost caste with the passengers by refusing to get his wife a drink of water when she asked him to do so "Go get it yourself," was his surly reply. No doubt he has a most shining future awaiting him as a California real estate man eBrlin—Holland's frontier, made notorious during the war as a favorite exit from Germany for fugitive prisoners of war, is again coming into the limelight through the surreptitious crossing of young German girls anxious to get Dutch employment. It is estimated that Germany is already poorer by 20,000 female servants as a result of this practice.

GERMAN SERVANTS GO INTO HOLLAND

HIGHER WAGES.

With high wages and attractive working conditions, Holland has become something of a "promised land" for German fraulens qualified as housemaids or cooks. Twenty-five guilders a month are paid beginners, while the more efficient receive from 40 to 50. Such pay means from 2,000 to 5,000 marks monthly at the present rate of exchange, about ten times more than help of this kind receives in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Durward Kenneth Hopkins, who were married July 4 in Lincoln, Ill., have returned to Decatur to make their home

They are the couple about whom the Review published an article Thursday stating that they had 10,000 wedding guests, They were married at the city hall in Lincoln, supposedly secretly, but after the ceremony they found the whole town of Lincoln on the square to greet them The crowd had gathered for the celebration that day, but some one heard of the wedding and the news quickly spread

BUILD STEPS AND BRIDGE AT DAM

Other Improvements Are Being Made.

Cement steps and a bridge are being constructed to connect the north embankment of the new dam and the high ground west of it on which the contractor's office now stands. Previous to this time the only way to cross over the ditch separating the two places was on a couple of boards stretched across.

A cinder walk is being made on the top of the embankment and the ground on each side of the walk is being prepared for grass, the work of grading and cleaning on the hill north of the filter station is continuing.

RIVER AT 600 FEET.

The river level at the new dam Friday noon was 600.0 feet. Water is still running over the old dam and through the ditch around it so there is no immediate danger that the city will be bothered with the sewerage odor for a few days.

People are still fishing below the dam but they are catching comparatively few fish.

GET OIL LEASES IN ARKANSAS

Lincoln Co. Makes Purchase of 500 Acres.

FAVORABLE REPORTS

Ten Wells Being Drilled in Vicinity.

The Lincoln Gas & Oil Company of Decatur announces the purchase of 500 acres of leases in Saline county, Ark The leases are near Malvern, a little south of the center of the state and a short distance north of the Eldorado field in which is located the world's greatest gas well. While it is admittedly wild cat territory the geological conditions are extraordinarily favorable and ten wells are being drilled in that vicinity The nearest of these is within a mile of the Lincoln leases and is at a depth of 3,050 feet. This well has already had two good shows of oil but the average depth of wells in that formation is 3,250 feet and this well will go at least to that depth. If this proves to be a good well the Lincoln leases will be worth millions.

THINK CHANCES GOOD.

The purchase of the leases was made to a large extent upon the reports of the geologists. The leases are on the old Palaozoic shore line which starts on the gulf coast, trends through Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee and the western tip of Kentucky, thence swings to the south and returns to the coast of the Gulf of Mexico This line is dotted with successful oil and gas wells The Lincoln people consider that they have two good chances, first to find oil in highly profitable quantities, and second, to find gas, No move to drill on these leases will be made at present The outcome of the well nearest the lease will be awaited If that well is successful the Lincoln people can do whatever they wish with their leases. They can drill themselves or they can sell the leases at almost their own price.

OWNED BY NEGRO

There is a romance of this particular field that would furnish the material for a thrilling story. A negro named Jim Hensen owned a little farm and he believed that there was oil under it He had no money to drill a test well and he could not induce others to do so. But he had four able bodied sons and they set about putting down a well They made a rig of their own and began work. They cultivated the farm during the spring and summer. From the proceeds of the cotton and other crops they bought such supplies as they could and during the fall and winter they drilled.

SELLS AT BIG PRICE.

That was six years ago. Very recently at a depth of 1,350 feet they got a show of oil, just about the same sort of show as was found in Lincoln well No. 1. There was a rush of oil men to the field and Jim Hensen sold his land at $500 to $1,000 an acre. The well which is now at a depth of 3,050 feet is on the Hensen farm and the Lincoln leases are less than a mile away.

STILL DRILLING.

PASSPORTS COSTLY FOR U.S. TOURISTS

Belgrade, Jugoslavia.—Collecting ten dollars gold from American travelers every time a passport is vised continues to be one of the popular occupations of officials of the states of Central Europe

Any American who wishes to visit one of these countries must pass the frontiers of several of the others, and at each frontier the charge is ten dollars a head, and ten dollars every time he passes. One American business man within the past three months has paid $120.

"But don't blame us, blame your State Department," said a representative of the Jugoslavia Foreign office. "It is a matter of reciprocity with us; we charge the same fee as does the United States."
